The CIBSE guide to Environmental design has had a major upgrade for the first time in nine years, and large parts of the edition have been revised.

CIBSE Guide 2015 aims to define the main criteria for design in terms of comfort and health, and to set out appropriate internal and external design conditions. Under the chairmanship of Derrick Braham, Guide A describes a logical process for engineers to deliver comfortable, productive, and low environmental impact buildings, while considering the consequences of climate change.
