

The background of the entire image is a painting. It depicts a person, possibly a woman, standing on a light-colored, rocky or sandy shore. The person is looking out towards a dark, choppy sea. The sky above is filled with soft, white and grey clouds, suggesting an overcast day. The overall mood is contemplative and somewhat somber.

Cosmogonic Reflections Selected Aphorisms From Ludwig Klages:

Cosmogonic Reflections: Selected Aphorisms from Ludwig Klages Ludwig Klages, 2015-06-15 This book is a selection of aphorisms and reflections excerpted from the voluminous works of the German philosopher and psychologist Ludwig Klages. He was a fierce critic of what he saw as the lack of quality in the modern world which he held to be a product of modern ideas and organised Christianity in our era. For Klages the world is divided between life affirming beliefs that venerate nature and those anti natural forces that promote materialism and rationalism. To overcome these anti life forces Klages wished to return European consciousness back to its pagan roots and renew the link between man and sacred nature. He opposed technocratic rationalism, illusions of progress and democracy which he believed to be antithetical to true culture. His aphorisms defend paganism and a healthy Eros for a renewed future. A pagan metaphysical system would not be philosophy as one understands that word today, i.e. the hair splitting rehashing of such life alien concepts as would be appropriate to the lecture hall, nor would it be characterized by that sort of factitious profundity that seeks to conceal its utter inability to solve the riddles of thought behind a veil of second rate poetic fables. Neither should a genuine pagan metaphysics resemble that which passes for science in the modern world. Before we can discover truths that go to the very roots we must possess a greater fund of inwardness than can be discerned in those thinkers who for at least the last five hundred years have expended their energies exclusively within the realm of reason. p 143

A Cultural History of the Soul Kocku von Stuckrad, 2022-02-15 The soul which dominated many intellectual debates at the beginning of the twentieth century has virtually disappeared from the sciences and the humanities. Yet it is everywhere in popular culture, from holistic therapies and new spiritual practices to literature and film, to ecological and political ideologies. Ignored by scholars, it is hiding in plain sight in a plethora of religious, psychological, environmental and scientific movements. This book uncovers the history of the concept of the soul in twentieth century Europe and North America. Beginning in fin de siècle Germany, Kocku von Stuckrad examines a fascination spanning philosophy, the sciences, the arts and the study of religion, as well as occultism and spiritualism, against the backdrop of the emergence of experimental psychology. He then explores how and why the United States witnessed a flowering of ideas about the soul in popular culture and spirituality in the latter half of the century. Von Stuckrad examines an astonishingly wide range of figures and movements ranging from Ernest Renan, Martin Buber and Carl Gustav Jung to the Esalen Institute, deep ecology and revivals of shamanism, animism and paganism to Rachel Carson, Ursula K. Le Guin and the Harry Potter franchise. Revealing how the soul remains central to a culture that is only seemingly secular, this book casts new light on the place of spirituality, religion and metaphysics in Europe and North America today.

The Myth of Disenchantment Jason Ananda Josephson Storm, 2017-05-16 A great many theorists have argued that the defining feature of modernity is that people no longer believe in spirits, myths or magic. Jason Josephson Storm argues that as broad cultural history goes, this narrative is wrong, as attempts to suppress magic have failed more often than they have succeeded.

Even the human sciences have been more enchanted than is commonly supposed But that raises the question How did a magical spiritualist mesmerized Europe ever convince itself that it was disenchanted Josephson Storm traces the history of the myth of disenchantment in the births of philosophy anthropology sociology folklore psychoanalysis and religious studies Ironically the myth of mythless modernity formed at the very time that Britain France and Germany were in the midst of occult and spiritualist revivals Indeed Josephson Storm argues these disciplines founding figures were not only aware of but profoundly enmeshed in the occult milieu and it was specifically in response to this burgeoning culture of spirits and magic that they produced notions of a disenchanted world By providing a novel history of the human sciences and their connection to esotericism The Myth of Disenchantment dispatches with most widely held accounts of modernity and its break from the premodern past

The Shock of History: Religion, Memory, Identity Dominique Venner, 2015-08-06 The shock of history we live it neither knowing or comprehending it France Europe and the world have entered into a new era of thought attitudes and powers This shock of history makes clear the fact that there is no such thing as an insurmountable destiny The time will come for Europe to awaken to respond to the challenges of immigration toxic ideologies the perils of globalism and the confusion that assails her But under what conditions That is the question to which this book responds Conceived in the form of a lively and dynamic interview with a historian who after taking part in history himself never ceased to study and reflect upon it In this text the first of his major works to appear in English Dominique Venner recounts the great movements of European history the origin of its thought and its tragedies He proposes new paths and offers powerful examples to ward off decadence and to understand the history in which we are immersed and in which we lead our lives

A Traditionalist Confronts Fascism Julius Evola, 2015-09-17 This volume a companion to Evola's Fascism Viewed from the Right and Notes on the Third Reich contains many of his occasional essays on the topic of fascism as understood from a traditionalist perspective which were written between 1930 and 1971 thus comprising both his contemporary and post war assessments of the fascist phenomenon Here we find Evola's views not only on Italian Fascism and German Nazism but also his discussions of other movements such as the Spanish Falange and the Japanese Imperial ideal as well as his commentary on such diverse subjects as Nazi esotericism the idea of a new spiritual Order to lead Europe and the reasons for his rejection of Nazi biological racism Also included are interviews Evola personally conducted with Corneliu Codreanu the leader of the Iron Guard and Count Coudenhove Kalergi the founder of the Pan European Movement the forerunner of the European Union and the full text of Orientalism the famous essay Evola wrote in 1950 concerning the proper approach of the European Right in the post war era which he further developed in Men Among the Ruins These essays show Evola to have been an unsparing critic of fascism always urging traditionalists to aspire for something higher than the merely political

Eco-Deconstruction Philippe Lynes, David Wood, 2018-03-27 Eco Deconstruction marks a new approach to the degradation of the natural environment including habitat loss species extinction and climate change While the work of

French philosopher Jacques Derrida 1930 2004 with its relentless interrogation of the anthropocentric metaphysics of presence has already proven highly influential in posthumanism and animal studies the present volume drawing on published and unpublished work by Derrida and others builds on these insights to address the most pressing environmental issues of our time The volume brings together fifteen prominent scholars from a wide variety of related fields including eco phenomenology eco hermeneutics new materialism posthumanism animal studies vegetal philosophy science and technology studies environmental humanities eco criticism earth art and aesthetics and analytic environmental ethics Overall eco deconstruction offers an account of differential relationality explored in a non totalizable ecological context that addresses our times in both an ontological and a normative register The book is divided into four sections Diagnosing the Present suggests that our times are marked by a facile flattened out understanding of time and thus in need of deconstructive dispositions Ecologies mobilizes the spectral ontology of deconstruction to argue for an originary environmentality the constitutive ecological embeddedness of mortal life Nuclear and Other Biodegradabilities examines remains including such by products and disintegrations of human culture as nuclear waste environmental destruction and species extinctions Environmental Ethics seeks to uncover a demand for justice including human responsibility for suffering beings that emerges precisely as a response to original differentiation and the mortality and unmasterable alterity it installs in living beings As such the book will resonate with readers not only of philosophy but across the humanities and the social and natural sciences

Women, Martyrs and Stones in Iran's Post-War Politics Sana Chavoshian, 2025-05-31 How would a switch from the inner to the outer from the inwardness to the surface from the habitus to the haptic alter our anthropological thinking about Islam How do micro matters permeate the terrain of Shi i women s religious practice and Iran s contemporary politics Women Martyrs and Stones in Iran's Post War Politics explores the haptic relations that connect mothers and wives of the fallen soldiers of the Iran Iraq war 1980 88 to their sons and husbands as martyrs They have played a crucial role in the legitimation discourse of the Iranian state and transformed the very grounds on which religious nationalist and statist projects can be envisioned and practiced Mourning mothers of martyrs covered in black veils have not only been integrated into a state revering cult but have incorporated their conduct into state s apparatus This book takes the reader on a journey from women s dreamworld to their practices of intercession in cemeteries and former battlefields to show material and affective exposures in crafting relics

The Ecstatic and the Archaic Paul Bishop, Leslie Gardner, 2018-03-15 The word archaic derives from the Greek arkhaios which in turn is related to the word arch meaning principle origin or cause the notion of ecstasy or ekstasis implies standing outside or beyond oneself a self transcendence How these two concepts are articulated and co implicated constitutes the core question underlying this edited collection which examines both the present day and antiquity in order to trace the insistent presence of the ecstatic amid the archaic Presented in three parts the contributors to this diverse book take the concept of the archaic in an entirely new direction Part I Ecstasy and the psychological covers topics including Jung Freud ancient psychotherapy desire and theatre Part II Ecstatic archaic history considers Ludwig Klages Orestes and Dionysus Finally Part III Ancient ecstatic in other worlds examines Luo Guanzhong's Three Kingdoms and Enki at Eridu The collection offers a distinctive contextualisation of the dimension of the archaic in relation to the ecstatic experience The Ecstatic and the Archaic will appeal to readers interested in the relationship between ancient and postmodern worlds and in how the past manifests itself in the present It will be of great interest to academics and students of Jungian and post Jungian ideas classical religions and the history of ideas as well as practitioners of analytical psychology and psychoanalysis
