Curating Transcultural Spaces Sarah Hegenbart, 2024-01-11 Curating Transcultural Spaces asks what a museum which enables the presentation of multiple perspectives might look like Can identity be global and local at the same time How may one curate dual identity More broadly what is the link between the arts and processes of identity construction This volume an indispensable source for the process of engaging with colonial history in Germany and beyond takes its starting point from the scandal of the Humboldt Forum The transfer of German state collections from the Ethnological Museum and the Museum for Asian Art located at the margins of Berlin in Dahlem into the centre of Germany's capital indicates the nation's aspiration of purported multiculturalism and cosmopolitanism yet the project's resurrection of the site's former Prussian city palace which was demolished during the GDR stands in opposition to its very mission given that the Prussian rulers benefited from colonial exploitation By examining the contrasting successes of other projects such as the National Museum of African American History and Culture in Washington DC Curating Transcultural Spaces compellingly argues for the necessity of taking post colonial thinking on board in the construction of museum spaces in order to generate genuine exchange between multiple perspectives
