Wilson,2017-05-15 Crew Resource Management CRM training was first introduced in the late 1970s as a means to combating an increased number of accidents in which poor teamwork in the cockpit was a significant contributing factor Since then CRM training has expanded beyond the cockpit for example to cabin crews maintenance crews health care teams nuclear power teams and offshore oil teams Not only has CRM expanded across communities it has also drawn from a host of theories from multiple disciplines and evolved through a number of generations Furthermore a host of methodologies and tools have been developed that have allowed the community to better study and measure its effect on team performance and ultimately safety Lacking however is a forum in which researchers and practitioners alike can turn to in order to understand where CRM has come from and where it is going This volume part of the Critical Essays on Human Factors in Aviation series proposes to do just that by providing a selection of readings which depicts the past present and future of CRM research and training Handbook of Human Factors in Air Transportation Systems Steven James Landry,2017-11-22 One of the primary applications of human factors engineering is in the aviation domain and the importance of human factors has never been greater as U S and European authorities seek to modernize the air transportation system through the introduction of advanced automation This handbook provides regulators practitioners researchers and educators a comprehensive resource for understanding and applying human factors to air transportation Crew Resource Management James E. Global Air Transport Management and Reshaping Business Models for the New Era Kankaew, Kannapat, 2022-05-27 The air transport industry is highly vulnerable to environmental changes as was seen when the recent COVID 19 pandemic caused most airline operations to cease. However for decades airlines have been collapsing around the globe as the business of managing airline operations has become stressed due to price competition. This is detrimental to air carriers since air transport products and services are the same. Moreover it impacts other industries such as tourism hotels and restaurants which contribute to the derailment of economic and social activities. Thus it is essential to determine new practices and strategies that can allow air transport management to be enriched and to flourish. Global Air Transport Management and Reshaping Business Models for the New Era provides a comprehensive collection of knowledge on the new era of business management on air transport. It provides strategies, technologies and tools used in the reshaping of the air transport business model. Covering topics such as customer experience, robotic process automation and airline alliances, this major reference work is an essential resource for airline managers, supply chain specialists, air transport managers, students and faculty of higher education, libraries, researchers, economists, government officials and academicians. Dynamics Lawrence M. Gillman, Sandy Widder, Michael Blaivas MD, Dimitrios Karakitsos, 2015-11-02 This is the first book exploring the unique dynamics created by a multidisciplinary trauma team and how crisis management strategies can improve teamwork and communication and potentially improve patient resuscitation outcomes. Crisis resource management (CRM) is integral to the way that we manage ourselves, team members and patients during emergency situations. It is essentially the ability to translate knowledge of what needs to be done into effective actions during a crisis situation. Building on the revolutionary American College of Surgeons Advanced Trauma Life Support (ATLS) course, Trauma Team Dynamics illustrates the integration of the principles of CRM to team dynamics throughout the resuscitation from the scene through pre-hospital care and transport to the trauma bay and finally to definitive care and beyond. The editors and contributors are international experts in trauma, critical care, emergency medicine, nursing, respiratory therapy and pre-hospital care and include NASA and United States military affiliated experts. Trauma Team Dynamics is intended for use as both a day-to-day clinical resource and a reference text and includes self-assessment questions as well as guidance on CRM curriculum design and implementation. Trauma Team Dynamics Lawrence Marshall Gillman, Sandy Widder, 2025-09-12 The majority of medical errors are non technical in nature stemming from faulty decision making asynchronous information gathering lack of situational awareness and ineffective communication and team leadership Reviews of accidents from other high risk industries including the airline industry have had similar findings This led the National Aeronautics and Space Administration NASA and the airline industry to develop crew now crisis resource management CRM training These team based training strategies address non technical skills to counteract human error and improve team and patient safety Medicine has begun adapting this training especially within the realms of anesthesia and critical care Trauma surgery has been slower to utilize this work however simulation based training is increasing in popularity The first edition of Trauma Team Dynamics was a revolutionary book in the field of trauma care It was the first text that integrated the complexities of trauma care but illustrated how these could be streamlined and improved through a team based focus and training CRM and team based training has grown substantially in the past six years since this text was conceived and there have been significant developments both in the breadth of the training as well as refinement in the topics covered teaching methods utilized and strategies employed to overcome the multitude of challenges still faced in this area The second edition of this text expands greatly on the initial CRM topics covered in the opening section of the book Hot topics in CRM training including the concepts of followership and conflict resolution and highlights strategies such as mindfulness and others to manage stress and reduce burnout are discussed The text also expands into novel areas of trauma care including less invasive bedside endovascular treatments such as REBOA Resuscitative Endovascular Balloon Occlusion of the Aorta and a more in depth discussion of teleresuscitation and trauma care in austere environments Featuring 28 new chapters the second edition of Trauma Team Dynamics is written by experts in trauma critical care emergency medicine nursing respiratory therapy and pre hospital care and include NASA and United States military affiliated experts It is intended for use as both a day to day clinical resource and a reference text and includes self assessment questions as well as guidance on CRM curriculum design and implementation
