Collected Works Edward Carpenter Intermediate:

Edward Carpenter Sheila Rowbotham, 2009-10-05 The gay socialist writer Edward Carpenter had an extraordinary impact on the cultural and political landscape of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. A mystic advocate of among other causes free love, recycling, nudism, women's suffrage and prison reform, his work anticipated the sexual revolution of the 1960s. Sheila Rowbotham's highly acclaimed biography situates Carpenter's life and thought in relation to the social aesthetic and intellectual movements of his day and explores his friendships with figures such as Walt Whitman, E. M. Forster, Isadora Duncan and Emma Goldman. Edward Carpenter is a compelling portrait of a man described by contemporaries as a weather vane for his times.

The Intermediate Sex Edward Carpenter, 2015-12-14 The Intermediate sex collates papers from Edward Carpenter on his ideas about intermediate types. Carpenter claims that there are those in societies who hold an intermediate position between the two sexes and may have an inner sex in their mind that is different from their biological sex. Originally published in 1908, this version in 1941, these papers present early observations about gender fluidity in both men and women, studying certain types of intermediate people that he claimed were beginning to emerge more obviously at the time of writing. This title will be of interest to students of gender studies.

The Collected Works of Edward Carpenter Edward Carpenter, 2017-01-06 This collection of Edward Carpenter's works provides an in-depth insight to his most important studies throughout the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, including Civilisation: Its Cause and Cure, The Light from the East and The Drama of Love and Death. The ten titles included in this set expand on the well-known poet and philosopher's socialist views, his studies of Hinduism and his ideas of intermediate types, which was a particularly important theory in the history of LGBT activism.

Collected Letters: Family letters, 1905-1931 Clive Staples Lewis, 2000 This first volume of family letters 1905-1931 covers Lewis's boyhood and early manhood, his army years, undergraduate life at Oxford and his election to a fellowship at Magdalen College. Lewis became an atheist at 13 years old and his dislike of Christianity is evident in many of his letters.

Women, Gays, and the Constitution David A. J. Richards, 1998-07-20 In this remarkable study, David A. J. Richards combines an interpretive history of culture and law, political philosophy and constitutional analysis to explain the background development and growing impact of two of the most important and challenging human rights movements of our time: feminism and gay rights. Richards argues that both movements are extensions of rights-based dissent rooted in antebellum abolitionist feminism that condemned both American racism and sexism. He sees the progressive role of such radical dissent as an emancipated moral voice in the American constitutional tradition. He examines the role of dissident African Americans, Jews, women and homosexuals in forging alternative visions of rights-based democracy. He also draws special attention to Walt Whitman's visionary poetry, showing how it made space for the silenced and subjugated voices of homosexuals in public and private culture. According to Richards, contemporary feminism rediscovered and elaborated this earlier tradition. And similarly, the movement for gay rights builds upon an interpretation of abolitionist feminism developed by Whitman in his defense both in poetry and prose of love between men Richards explores Whitman s impact on pro gay advocates including John Addington Symonds Havelock Ellis Edward Carpenter Oscar Wilde and Andr Gide He also discusses other diverse writers and reformers such as Margaret Sanger Franz Boas Elizabeth Stanton W E B DuBois and Adrienne Rich Richards addresses current controversies such as the exclusion of homosexuals from the military and from the right to marriage and concludes with a powerful defense of the struggle for such constitutional rights in terms of the principles of rights based feminism The Last Utopians Michael Robertson,2020-04-28 The Last Utopians delves into the biographies of four key figures Edward Bellamy William Morris Edward Carpenter and Charlotte Perkins Gilman who lived during an extraordinary period of literary and social experimentation The publication of Bellamy s Looking Backward in 1888 opened the floodgates of an unprecedented wave of utopian writing Morris the Arts and Crafts pioneer was a committed socialist whose News from Nowhere envisions a workers Arcadia Carpenter boldly argued that homosexuals constitute a utopian vanguard Gilman a women s rights activist and the author of The Yellow Wallpaper wrote numerous utopian fictions including Herland a visionary tale of an all female society These writers Robertson shows shared a belief in radical equality imagining an end to class and gender hierarchies and envisioning new forms of familial and romantic relationships They held liberal religious beliefs about a universal spirit uniting humanity They believed in social transformation through nonviolent means and were committed to living a simple life rooted in a restored natural world And their legacy remains with us today as Robertson describes in entertaining firsthand accounts of contemporary utopianism ranging from Occupy Wall Street to a Radical Faerie retreat Notes and Queries: a Medium of Inter-communication for Literary Men, Artists, Antiquaries, Genealogists, Etc ,1899 Selected Works of Voltairine de Cleyre Voltairine De Cleyre,1914
