Margaret Sherraden,Julie Birkenmaier,J. Michael Collins,2018-03-28 Financial struggles of American families are headline news In communities across the nation families feel the pinch of stagnant and sometimes declining incomes Many have not recovered from the Great Recession when millions lost their homes and retirement savings They are bombarded daily with vexing financial decisions Which bills to pay Where to cash checks How to cover an emergency How to improve a credit report How to bank online How to save for the future Low and moderate income families have few places to turn for guidance on financial matters Not many can afford to pay a financial advisor to help navigate an increasingly complex financial world They do their best with advice from family and trusted individuals Social workers financial counselors and human services professionals can help As first responders they assist families and help in finding financial support from public and private sources But these professionals are too often unprepared to address the full range of financial troubles of ordinary working families Financial Capability and Asset Building in Vulnerable Households prepares social workers financial counselors and other human service professionals for financial practice with vulnerable families Building on more than 20 years of research the book sets the stage with key concepts historical antecedents and current financial challenges of families in America It provides knowledge and tools to assist families in pressing financial circumstances and offers a lifespan perspective of financial capability and environmental influences on financial behaviors and actions Furthermore the text details practice principles and skills for direct interventions as well as for designing financial services and policy innovations It is an essential resource for preparing the next generation of practitioners who can enable families to achieve economic security and development Handbook of Income Distribution Anthony B. California. Department of Housing and Community Development,1982 The Politics of Naming the Armenian Genocide Vartan Matiossian,2021-09-23 This book explores the genealogy of the concept of Medz Yeghern Great Crime the Armenian term for the mass murder and ethnic cleansing of the Armenian ethno religious group in the Ottoman Empire between the years 1915 1923 Widely accepted by historians as one of the classical cases of genocide in the 20th century ascribing the right definition to the crime has been a source of contention and controversy in international politics Vartan Matiossian here draws upon extensive research based on Armenian sources neglected in much of the current historiography as well as other European languages in order to trace the development of the concepts pertaining to mass killing and genocide of Armenians from the ancient to the modern periods Beginning with an analysis of the term itself he shows how the politics of its use evolved as Armenians struggled for international recognition of the crime after 1945 in the face of Turkish protest Taking a combined historical philological literary and political perspective the book is an insightful exploration of the politics of naming a catastrophic historical event and the competitive nature of national collective memories

Financing Basic Income

Richard Pereira,2023-07-12 This Palgrave Pivot second edition argues that basic income is in fact affordable The contributors approach the topic from the perspectives of three different countries Canada Switzerland and Australia to overcome objections that a universal program to keep all citizens above the poverty line would be too expensive to implement They assess the complex array of revenue sources that can make universal basic income feasible from the underestimated value of public program redundancies to new and so far unaccounted publicly owned assets This new edition adds an analysis for financing basic income in the United States as well as considering the basic income potential in a country of far more modest economic resources Portugal The COVID 19 pandemic is discussed in a new Prologue demonstrating the need for universal economic security as a precautionary measure for unforeseen crises New research and compelling analyses are included throughout to provide support for a dual basic income proposal
