Deindustrialisation and the Moral Economy in Scotland since 1955 Jim Tomlinson, Valerie Wright, Jim Phillips, 2021-09-09 Deindustrialisation is the central feature of Scotland's economic social and political history since the 1950s when employment levels peaked in the established sectors of coal shipbuilding metals and textiles along with the railways and docks This book moves analysis beyond outmoded tropes of economic decline and industrial catastrophe and instead examines the political economy of deindustrialisation with a sharp eye on cultural and social dimensions that were not uniformly negative as often assumed Viewing the long term process of deindustrialisation through a moral economy framework the book carefully reconstructs the impact of economic change on social class gender relations and political allegiances including a reawakened sense of Scottish national identity In doing so it reveals deindustrialisation as a more complex process than the customary body count of closures and job losses suggests and demonstrates that socioeconomic change did not just happen but was influenced by political agency The Congregationalist ,1895 Self-guided Trails
