SPURGEON,2015-07-05 Excerpt from The Cheque Book of the Bank of Saith Being Precious Promises Arranged for Daily Use With Brief Experimental Comments A promise from God may very instructively be compared to a cheque payable to order It is given to the believer with the view of bestowing upon him some good thing It is not meant that he should read it over comfortably and then have done with it No he is to treat the promise as a reality as a man treats a cheque He is to take the promise and endorse it with his own name by personally receiving it as true He is by faith to accept it as his own He sets to his seal that God is true and true as to this particular word of promise He goes further and believes that he has the blessing in having the sure promise of it and therefore he puts his name to it to testify to the receipt of the blessing This done he must believably present the promise to the Lord as a man presents a cheque at the counter of the Bank He must plead it by prayer expecting to have it fulfilled If he has come to heaven s bank at the right date he will receive the promised amount at once If the date should happen to be further on he must patiently wait till its arrival but meanwhile he may count the promise as money for the Bank is sure to pay when the due time arrives About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
