Cherished 21 Writers On Animals They Have Loved And Lost:

Cherished Barbara Abercrombie, 2011-03-12 Because grieving for an animal can be a pretty lonely place Barbara Abercrombie created this joyful and poignant funny and smart collection of commiseration Readers meet the cat who liked to fish tampon tubes out of the trash and then appear jauntily holding one in his mouth as if smoking a cigarette the dog who demanded down pillows and even a coyote who became part of the family The sometimes surprising things animals add to a household and how their loss reverberates are highlighted and because these are such fine writers each essay also reveals larger truths about life Whether the reader is grieving a loss cherishing a current companion or simply relishing a tale well told the message is clear it is better to have loved and lost Animals and the Kids Who Love Them Allen Anderson, Linda Anderson, 2011 Presents short biographical stories about how animals have been beneficial to children in need A Year of

Writing Dangerously Barbara Abercrombie, 2012-05-08 In this collection of anecdotes lessons quotes and prompts author and writing teacher Barbara Abercrombie provides a delightfully varied cornucopia of inspiration nuts and bolts solutions hand holding commiseration and epiphany fueling insights from fellow writers including Nobel and Pulitzer Prize winners and Abercrombie's students who have gone from paralyzed to published Exit Laughing Victoria Zackheim, 2012-05-08 There's nothing funny about dying or is there Malachy McCourt Jacquelyn Mitchard and 22 more share hilarious and moving stories of confronting death Exit Laughing makes death more approachable as it reveals the funny side of passing on As painful as it is to lose a loved one Exit Laughing shows us that in times of grief humor can help us with coping and even healing Best selling author Amy Ferris explains how her mother's dementia led to a permanent ban from an airline Ellen Sussman writes of flying her mother's body home and watching the burial wardrobe spill out on the baggage carousel Broadway and television actor Richard McKenzie shares the riotous story of a funeral procession led by a lost hearse Bonnie Garvin even manages to find a heavy dose of dark humor in her parents' three unsuccessful attempts at a double suicide These stories along with tales from Joshua Braff Barbara Graham Dianne Rinehart and more constitute a book whose purpose is to remind readers that when dealing with illness aging and dying there is an important place for laugh out loud humor

Kicking In the Wall Barbara Abercrombie, 2013-04-15 When Patti Smith was plagued with writer's block scattered and stymied surrounded by unfinished songs and abandoned poems playwright Sam Shepard advised her When you hit a wall just kick it in In these pages Abercrombie shows readers how to do just that Like a workout with a top trainer her writing exercises warm up stretch and build creative muscle Quotes from famous writers inspire each day's exercise Though Abercrombie says readers need only commit five minutes to each exercise she writes I've seen novels memoirs and many essays get started in those five minutes and a lot ended up being published Her playful powerful method is ideal maybe even essential fuel for writers trying to get off the starting block persevere through challenges and cross their personal creativity finish lines The Language of Loss Barbara Abercrombie, 2020-11-03 When Barbara Abercrombie's husband died she found the language of condolence irritating no matter how well intended My husband had not gone to a better place as if he were off on a holiday He had not passed like clouds overhead nor was he my late husband as if he d missed a train I had not lost him as if I d been careless and for sure none of it was for the best She yearned instead for words that acknowledged the reality of death spoke about the sorrow and loneliness and perhaps even guilt and anger and might even point the way toward hope and healing She found those words in the writings gathered here The Language of Loss is a book to dip into and read slowly a collection of poems and prose to lead you through the phases of grief The selections follow an arc that mirrors the path of many mourners from abject loss and feeling unmoored to glimmers of promise and possibility through to gratitude for the love they knew These writings which express what often feels ineffable will accompany those who grieve offering understanding and solace
