Chernobyl, the Forbidden Truth Alla Yaroshinska, 1995 In this impassioned shocking and deeply personal story Alla Yaroshinskaya then a journalist from Zhitomir Ukraine near the Chernobyl power station describes the 1986 Chernobyl disaster and the bureaucratic and scientific corruption surrounding it Despite the government's official silence news and panic spread throughout the USSR and Europe after the horrific accident Like others Yaroshinskaya initially fled with her family in hopes of escaping the danger from radioactive fallout that exceeded that of Hiroshima by three hundred times When she returned home she discovered that people in highly contaminated areas were being resettled in ones barely less contaminated that their serious health problems were officially denied and that people had to eat locally grown contaminated food Her newspaper refused to publish her stories and instead commissioned another journalist to write more reassuring accounts Finally Isvestia published her articles Despite official pressure Yaroshinskaya was nominated overwhelmingly to the new parliament in 1989 This position gained her access to classified documents known as the Kremlin's Forty Secret Protocols Undaunted by threats she revealed an official cover up including lies about permissible higher radioactive levels Her courageous campaign won her the Right Livelihood Award in 1992

Exploring the Cultural History of Continental European Freak Shows and 'Enfreakment' Anna Kérchy, 2013-02-14 This collection offers cultural historical analyses of enfreakment and freak shows examining the social construction and spectacular display of wondrous monstrous or curious Otherness in the formerly relatively neglected region of Continental Europe Forgotten stories are uncovered about freak show celebrities medical specimen and philosophical fantasies presenting the anatomically unusual in a wide range of sites including curiosity cabinets anatomical museums and traveling circus acts The essays explore the locally specific dimensions of the exhibition of extraordinary bodies within their particular historical cultural and political context Thus the impact of the Nazi eugenics programs state Socialism or the Chernobyl catastrophe is observed closely and yet the transnational dimensions of enfreakment are made obvious through topics ranging from Jesuit missionaries diabolization of American Indians to translations of Continental European teratology in British medical journals and the Hollywood silver screen's colonization of European fantasies about deformity Although

Continental European freaks are introduced as products of ideologically infiltrated representations they also emerge as embodied subjects endowed with their own voice view and subversive agency Connecting with Ambivalent Heritage Tiina Äikäs,Tuuli Matila,2024-09-05 Exploring the difficult and contested sites of deindustrialized society on the brink of transformation to either heritage or wasteland this volume looks at the creative ways that such sites are re used and suggests that they are not always merely abject or abandoned As a result our understanding of the meanings given to left over spaces is enhanced by an examination of the ways they are used Ambivalent heritage sites are not always recognized for their potential although artists and people from different recreational activities such as industrial sites and parkour use and experience these places in different ways The contributors introduce fresh ideas on how to approach these sites and the people invested in them employing multidisciplinary methodologies from archaeology and heritage studies to ethnography and sociology Through the use of Northern European case studies such as a former sanatorium a prison and the Chernobyl Exclusion Zone the reader gains a new perspective on these sites of contestation which are cherished despite their problematic status The conclusion is that due to the rapid societal change we are experiencing in the contemporary world heritage professionals must start to acknowledge and deal with the difficulties that ambivalent heritage sites pose The
