project described in this report increased understanding of the types of information to share between projects and demonstrated that microcomputer database tools can capture this information and make it available for future projects. The research method involved developing a classification of possible types of knowledge expanding and refining this classification based on documents concerning experience transfer in design and construction firms and interviews developing a prototype computer application to capture this information and make it available for new project teams and testing this approach on an active construction project. This research also resulted in conclusions regarding the content of construction experience capturing and gaining access to this information and the feasibility of using computer tools. American Book Publishing Record Cumulative 1993 R R Bowker Publishing, 1994-03.
