Collaborative Intelligence Using Teams To Solve Hard Problems:

Collaborative Intelligence J. Richard Hackman, 2011-05-16 This practical guide draws on cognitive science and work with Fortune 500 companies to help readers develop essential collaborative skills. Collaborative intelligence is a measure of our ability to think with others on behalf of what matters to us all. It is emerging as a new professional currency at a time when influence is more important than power and success relies on the ability to inspire. Through a series of practices and strategies this book helps us develop our own collaborative intelligence. The authors teach us how to value intellectual diversity and recognize our own mind patterns. By mapping the talents of our teams we're able to embark together on an aligned course of action and influence. Collaborative Intelligence is the culmination of more than fifty years of original research that draws on Dawna Markova's background in cognitive neuroscience and her most recent work with Angie McArthur as a Professional Thinking Partner to some of the world's top CEOs and creative professionals. In their experience managers who appreciate intellectual diversity will lead their teams to innovation employees who understand it will thrive because they are in touch with their strengths and an entire team who understands it will come together to do their best work in a symphony of collaboration. Collaborative Intelligence J. Richard Hackman, 2011-08-18 Explains how to develop an environment where teamwork flourishes identifying six conditions necessary for any team to succeed and using examples to show how each helps teams accomplish their goal.

New Tools for Collaboration Gregory F. Treverton, 2016-01-26

The Intelligence Community does not lag far behind the private sector in using collaborative tools indeed it has developed an impressive array. However the most used tools like instant messaging IM are employed primarily within agencies for peer to peer communication and hence are neither widely collaborative nor especially novel they are different ways of accomplishing familiar functions. The array of collaborative tools across agencies ranging from IM to blogs to a wiki called Intellipedia is impressive but used mostly by enthusiasts. This report identifies lessons learned from looking at the use of internal collaborative tools across the Intelligence Community especially across the four biggest agencies Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency, National Security Agency and National Geospatial Intelligence Agency

Today the new market leaders are mind share companies where influence is more important than power and success relies on collaboration and the ability to inspire.
