Creating Spaniards Creating Spaniards:

Creating Spaniards Sandie Eleanor Holguin, 2002 Creating Spaniards is a cultural and intellectual history that explains the intersection of politics and culture and the formation of a national identity during Spain's Second Republic and Civil War. It counters recent scholarship claiming that leaders of the Second Republic had no programs for inventing traditions to encourage a Spanish national identity. Focusing on the Second Republic 1931-1936, Sandie Holguin illustrates how various intellectuals and politicians of the Republican Socialist coalition used theater, literature, and film to aid the construction of a unified Spanish culture and history. She uses memoirs, journals, newspapers, parliamentary debates, and archival sources in her examination of the impact that cultural reforms had on the transformation of one of Europe's oldest states. Creating Community in Spanish California Sarah M. Ginn, 2009 The Making of Spanish Democracy Donald Share, 1986-06-06 This volume's coverage includes international agreements both bilateral and multi-lateral affecting shipping. The work includes full texts of reservations or declarations made by bound countries, texts of draft treaties, texts of average adjusting rules for key jurisdictions, and texts of salvage agreements. Texts of treaties and documents are arranged by category: arbitration, carriage of goods and passengers by sea, collision, navigation and rescue, fishing and whaling, international maritime organization, IMO, limitation of liability, miscellaneous international trade, pollution at sea, procedure, regulation of maritime safety and commerce, salvage and general average, seamen, territorial waters and high seas, and war. A Constitution in Making (1660-1714), 1917 Mother Earth, 1909 Engineering, 1913 The Making of Scotland Robert Sangster Rait, 1929 Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, 1921 The Making of the American Republic Archer Butler Hulbert, 1923 A History of England and the British Empire: 1689-1802 Arthur Donald Innes, 1925 Creating a National Identity Carol Lisa Tully, 1997 Annual Report, 1905 Annual Report of the Directory of Lands Philippines. Philippine Commission, 1900-1916, 1905 Report of the United States Philippine Commission to the Secretary of War United States. Philippine Commission (1900-1916), 1905 Report of the Philippine Commission to the Secretary of War, 1900-1915 United States. Philippine Commission (1899-1900), 1905 Republicanism and Anticlerical Nationalism in Spain Enrique Sanabria, 2009-03-15 This book focuses on the anticlerical industry: the mass production of anticlerical newspapers, novels, cartoons, and other propaganda forms produced by republican muckrakers, journalists, and politicians, especially Jos Nakers, in order to demonstrate the centrality of anticlericalism to the debates regarding alternate forms of government in Spain and competing visions of Spanish identity in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. Utilizing anticlericalism, radical republicans sought to call into question the legitimacy of the monarchy by tying it to what they argued was a corrupt and abusive Catholic Church and clergy in the hopes of paving the way to the coming of a lasting Republican polity

Working Memory in Spanish-English Bilinguals with Language Impairment

Janet Calderón, 2003 The present research addresses two questions and goals The first goal was to create and validate an alternative assessment tool for Spanish speaking and Spanish English bilingual children In Experiment 1 we developed and selected the appropriate nonwords for the Spanish language Experiment 2 compared Spanish nonword repetition performance for Spanish and Spanish English speaking children with or without language impairment LI Numerous studies have documented that monolingual English speaking children with LI differ from their peers on nonword repetition performance and have significantly more difficulty repeating three and four syllable nonwords It was predicted that Spanish speaking children with LI will have significantly more difficulty at Spanish nonword repetition performance both in general and with the longer nonwords The second research question examined the nature of language impairment in emerging bilingual populations The various models of working memory WM differ in the explanations given for the underlying cause of the working memory deficits present in this population of children A general limitation will cause the children with LI to perform significantly worse on all measures while a specific limitation will produce errors specific to the verbal domain only Both general processing and verbal processing measures were used to examine the nature of language impairment It was predicted that the children with LI will demonstrate deficits on all measures verbal and nonverbal supporting the unitary claim that children with LI possess a general processing limitation Experiment 2 demonstrated that the children with typical language development TLD performed significantly better than the group with LI on the Spanish Nonword Repetition task The findings from Experiment 3 supported the unitary theory of WM the combination of significant intercorrelations among the dependent variables and the fact that the group with LI performed significantly worse on both the verbal and nonverbal measures provided evidence for a general working memory limitation These children possess a working memory deficit not a language impairment The clinical implications of the experiments are exciting The Spanish Nonword Repetition task has the potential of screening for WM deficits avoiding time consuming language sampling and transcriptions Moreover support for a general WM deficit has significant implications for therapy
