C. Valerii Catulli Carmina (Oxford Classical Texts). Gaius Valerius Catullus,1958      Oxford University Press
Oxford University Press,1924      Milton's Socratic Rationalism David Oliver Davies,2017-08-17 The conversation of Adam and Eve in Paradise Lost that most obvious of Milton's additions to the Biblical narrative enacts the pair's inquiry into and discovery of the gift of their rational nature in a mode of discourse closely aligned to practices of Socrates in the dialogues of Plato and eponymous discourses of Xenophon Adam and Eve both begin their life much wondering where And what I was whence thither brought and how Their conjoint discoveries of each other's and their own nature in this talk Milton arranges for a in dialectical counterpoise to his persona's expressed task to justify the ways of God to men Like Xenophon's Socrates in the Memorabilia Milton's persona indites those ways of God in terms most agreeable to his audience of men notions Aristotle calls generally accepted opinions Thus for Milton's fit audience Paradise Lost will present two ways that address congenial to men per se and a fit discourse attuned to their very own rational faculties to understand the ways of God to men The interrogation of each way by its counterpart among the distinct audiences is the great Argument of the poem      Reference Catalogue of Current Literature ,1924      General Catalogue Oxford University Press,1916      Magic, Witchcraft, and Ghosts in the Greek and Roman Worlds Daniel Ogden,2002 In a culture where the supernatural possessed an immediacy now strange to us magic was of great importance both in the literary mythic tradition and in ritual practice In this book Daniel Ogden presents 300 texts in new translations along with brief but explicit commentaries Authors include the well known Sophocles Herodotus Plato Aristotle Virgil Pliny and the less familiar and extend across the whole of Graeco Roman antiquity      The Athenaeum ,1906      Sammlung Epaphroditus (of Chaeronea.),2007 The Greek grammarian Epaphroditus trained in Alexandria and prominent as a teacher in Rome of the Neronian Flavian era continued the tradition of Hellenistic scholarship in his study of Homer the Hesiodic Shield of Herakles and the Aitia of Kallimachos as well as in his treatise on etymology and in the compilation of a glossary of unfamiliar words Numerous fragments from these works have been preserved in the Ethnika of the sixth century grammarian Stephanos of Byzantium the scholia on Homer and other authors and notably in Byzantine etymological lexica not all of which are fully accessible in print The present edition presents a critical text of the fragments within the broader context in which they have been transmitted Each text is supplied with a critical apparatus and a list of the more important parallels To make the edition more easily accessible to non specialists an English translation has been given not only of the fragments but also of longer texts quoted in the notes features which should be of use to specialists as well After each fragment a short commentary summarizes the results An extensive introduction presents the life works and scholarship of Epaphroditus and explains the reasons for the classification of the fragments A concordance to the edition of Lanzner 1866 a full bibliography and indices facilitate the use of the work The aim of the edition has not only been to set the grammarian in his rightful place in the history of scholarship but to encourage further work in this neglected field by demonstrating its intrinsic interest and by explaining methods and technical terms which are often taken for granted in specialist works Edited and Translated with Introduction Notes and Commentary

Anthology of Ancient Medieval Woman's Song A. Klinck, 2004-04-16 This collection focuses on a woman's point of view in love poetry and juxtaposes poems by women and poems about women to raise questions about how femininity is constructed. Although most medieval women's songs are either anonymous or male authored lyrics in a popular style the term can usefully be expanded to cover poetry composed by women and poetry that is aristocratic or learned rather than popular Poetry from ancient Greece and Rome that resonates with the medieval poems is also included here Readers will find a range of voices often echoing similar themes as women rejoice or lament praise or condemn plead or curse speak in jest or in earnest to men and to each other about love The Classical Weekly, 1927 The Eagle, 1918 The Classical World, 1926
