Horizons in Career Counselling Kobus Maree,Annamaria Di Fabio,2015-11-03 This book brings together eminent global theorists and practitioners to share their views on the evolution of career counselling in recent decades Multiple changes of a fundamental and complex nature as well as related challenges in the world of work have necessitated career counselling to undergo such an evolution The authors examine the future nature and scope of new directions in the field of career counselling psychology and they critically reflect on as well as promote the predominant theoretical and conceptual framework of the field of career counselling The latest models and methods in and for the 21st century are explored and teased out including Mark Savickas proposal to shift the focus in interventions from conceptualising the self as content to seeing the self as a process This approach is in keeping with the notion of career as a story and consistent with leading theories such as Jean Guichard's self construction framework and the life design paradigm. The authors deliver an avant garde text that is easy to read and use without diluting the conceptual and terminological complexities of the field. The book is an invaluable resource for new emerging and experienced researchers, academics, scholars, researchers, psychologists, social workers, teachers and clients. It merges what is known about the field with emerging approaches. It gives an overview of theoretical paradigms that can be applied to a changing world of work. It makes a critical analysis of germane questions such as What does the future hold for the field of career counselling and how can challenges be turned into opportunities and How can different paradigms, approaches and strategies be harnessed to promote clients career life, wellbeing and resilience. It facilitates an understanding of the skills necessary to deal with career related transitions, challenges and barriers to help people acquire transferable career life skills and career choice readiness. It examines the importance of career adaptability and how people can develop this vital 21st century survival competency. It challenges career counsellors to grasp and acquire skills to promote and advocate social justice agendas. It promotes and demonstrates the exciting and promising notion of dialogue writing to enhance the dialogical work of the career counsellor and client. Individually and collectively the authors team up to blend retrospect and prospect and they make a concerted effort to convert 21st century challenges and frontiers in career counselling into opportunities, hurt into hope, hopelessness into inspiration. Handbook of Race-Ethnicity and Gender in Psychology Marie L. Miville, Angela D. Ferguson, 2014-02-06. Multicultural aspects of psychology have received some attention in the literature in the last decade. A number of texts currently address these significant concerns for example Counseling the Culturally Different Sue Handbook of Multicultural Counseling Poterotto et al 2009 and Handbook of Multicultural Counseling Competencies Pope Davis Coleman 2005. In their most recent editions several of these books address more nuanced complexities of diversity for example the intersections of gender or social class with race ethnicity. Meanwhile other texts have addressed gender issues in psychology Handbook of Counseling Women Counseling Men with some attention paid to racial ethnic and other diversity concerns. Clearly the progression of scholarship in this field reflects the importance of incorporating multiple aspects of diversity within psychology. However no book currently exists that fully addresses the complexities of race ethnicity and gender together. Better understanding of the dual impact of race ethnicity and gender on psychological functioning may lead to more effective conceptualizations of a number of mental health issues such as domestic violence, addictions, health related behaviors and achievement. Exploring the impact of race ethnicity and gender also may provide a broader understanding of self in community as this affects individuals, families and other social groups and work and career development. Topics of interest may include identity development, worldviews and belief systems, parenting styles, interventions for promoting resilience and persistence and strategies for enhancing more accurate diagnostic and treatment modalities. Today's world is comprised of multiple and intersecting communities that remain in need of psychological models and interventions that support and promote both individual and collective mental health. We believe that utilizing unidimensional conceptual models e g focusing solely on race ethnicity or gender no longer adequately addresses psychological concerns that are dynamic complex and multi faceted The proposed Handbook will focus on timely topics which historically have been under addressed for a number of diverse populations Integrating Career Development on the Campus Southern Regional Education Board,1974 Preparing Musicians for Precarious Work Nicole
