Carry Me Across The Water A Novel:

Carry Me Across the Water Ethan Canin, 2002-05-14 Breathtaking in its suspense and beauty Carry Me Across the Water is the story of a man's turbulent journey with his family through the central years of the twentieth century Young August Kleinman escapes from Nazi Germany to America where his mother's words Take the advice of no one fate him to a life of boldness and originality from the poor streets of New York to the marble mansions of industrial Pittsburgh from old world Hamburg to the jungle islands of the Pacific Ultimately near the end of a long and bountiful life his resolution of a haunting encounter with a Japanese soldier during World War Two finally illuminates at the deepest levels the way authentic lives truly unfold From the writer hailed as the most mature and accomplished novelist of his generation Alan Cheuse National Public Radio comes this exquisitely modulated short novel Los Angeles Times which eases its silky smooth way into a reader's consciousness even as it plumbs the depths Newsday

Aging Masculinity in the American Novel Alex Hobbs, 2016-05-17 As each generation confronts aging and responds to its challenges the literary community ranging from Philip Roth to Jonathan Franzen has provided nuanced and thoughtful depictions that transcend stereotypes of old men as feeble and broken individuals Under the sage guidance of these authors many facing old age themselves older male characters have become increasingly prevalent in literary fiction In Aging Masculinity in the American Novel Alex Hobbs turns the spotlight on matters related to later life by examining a broad range of works Hobbs looks at novels not only by literary lions of the Baby Boom generation but authors on the cusp of old age who anticipate its consequences In addition to works by Jonathan Franzen Paul Auster and Ethan Canin the author considers the perspectives of female writers such as Marilynne Robinson Anne Tyler and Jane Smiley who have created complex older male characters Hobbs argues that previous studies regarding male aging in popular culture have been reductive and she suggests that male and female experiences and interpretations of aging are individualistic and unique With a bold argument for how readers should contemplate masculinity in literary fiction this book helps us better understand the full range of issues that older men face from legacy and loss to health issues and grace The author's illuminating and persuasive perspectives will ignite a new way of thinking about this subject and its central place in the national conversation Looking at how older men's lives are documented in American fiction Aging Masculinity in the American Novel will be of interest to scholars and students of popular culture gender studies aging studies and literature

Travel and Dislocation in Contemporary American Fiction Alike Varvogli, 2012-03-12 This book offers a critical study and analysis of American fiction at the beginning of the twenty first century It focuses on novels that go outward literally and metaphorically and it concentrates on narratives that take place mainly away from the US's geographical borders Varvogli draws on current theories of travel globalization and post national studies and proposes a dynamic model that will enable scholars to approach contemporary American fiction and assess recent changes and continuities Concentrating on work by Philip Caputo Dave Eggers Norman Rush and Russell Banks the book proposes that American literature's engagement with Africa has shifted and needs to be approached using new methodologies. Novels by Amy Tan, Garrison Keillor, Jonathan Safran Foer, and Dave Eggers are examined in the context of travel and globalization, and works by Chang-rae Lee, Ethan Canin, Dinaw Mengestu, and Jhumpa Lahiri are used as examples of the changing face of the American immigrant novel and the changing meaning of national belonging. Jewish Book World, 2002. Theosophy, 1914. The Elson Readers. Readers, Books 1-8. William Harris Elson, 1920. The Japanese Fairy Book. Yei Theodora Ozaki, 1922. This collection of Japanese fairy tales is the outcome of a suggestion made to me indirectly through a friend by Mr. Andrew Lang. They have been translated from the modern version written by Sadanami Sanjin. These stories are not literal translations and though the Japanese story and all quaint Japanese expressions have been faithfully preserved, they have been told more with the view to interest young readers of the West than the technical student of folk lore. Grateful acknowledgment is due to Mr. Y. Yasuoka, Miss Fusa Okamoto, my brother Nobumori Ozaki, Dr. Yoshihiro Takaki, and Miss Kameko Yamao, who have helped me with translations. The story which I have named 'The Story of the Man who did not Wish to Die' is taken from a little book written a hundred years ago by one Shinsui Tamenaga. It is named 'Chosei Furo' or 'Longevity'. The 'Bamboo cutter' and the 'Moon child' is taken from the classic 'Taketari Monogatari' and is not classed by the Japanese among their fairy tales though it really belongs to this class of literature. The pictures are drawn by Mr. Kakuzo Fujiyama, a Tokio artist. In telling these stories in English, I have followed my fancy in adding such touches of local colour or description as they seemed to need or as pleased me, and in one or two instances I have gathered in an incident from another version. At all times among my friends, both young and old, English or American, I have always found eager listeners to the beautiful legends and fairy tales of Japan, and in telling them I have also found that they were still unknown to the vast majority, and this has encouraged me to write them for the children of the West.
