

CHES Exam Study Guide

Area of Responsibility I: Assess Individual and Community Needs for Health Education

The Role-

- The primary purpose of the needs assessment is to gather information to determine what health education activities are appropriate in a given setting.

Settings-

- Community Setting
- School (K-12) Setting
- Health Care Setting
- Business/Industry Setting
- College/University Setting
- University Health Services Setting

Key Terms-

- Needs Assessment: is the systematic identification of needs within a population and determination of the degree to which those needs are being met.
- Primary Data: are data gathered by the health education directly from or about the individual or population of interest. These data answer questions related to the specific needs assessment. Primary data are often collected by means of surveys, interviews, focus groups and direct observations.
- Secondary data (existing data): are data that have already been gathered by others that may or may not be directly from the individual or population being assessed. Examples include existing research published in peer-reviewed journals and/or datasets, such as the US Census, Vital Records and Disease Registries.

Competency A: Access Existing Health-Related Data

- Identify diverse health-related databases
- Use computerized sources of health-related information
- Determine the compatibility of data from the different data sources
- Select valid sources of information about health needs and interests

Competency B: Collect Health Related Data

- Use appropriate data-gathering instruments
- Apply survey techniques to acquire health data
- Conduct health-related needs assessments
- Implement appropriate measures to assess capacity for improving health status

Competency C: Distinguish Between Behaviors that Foster or Hinder Well-Being

- Identify diverse factors that influence health behaviors
