Dialogues in Diversity John K. Grande,2007 While the art world was once centered in Paris New York and London Grande shows that many of the most interesting perspectives today are coming from artists who live in marginalized cultures and non Western traditions In dialoguing with some of the world s most interesting artists Grande argues that art gives us new ways of looking at the world and society around us Indeed art may even help us to save our endangered planet Ecoart in Action

Amara Geffen,Ann Rosenthal,Chris Fremantle,Aviva Rahmani,2022-02-01 Ready to go vetted approaches for facilitating artistic environmental projects How do we educate those who feel an urgency to address our environmental and social challenges What ethical concerns do art makers face who are committed to a deep green agenda How can we refocus education to emphasize integrative thinking and inspire hope What role might art play in actualizing environmental resilience Compiled from 67 members of the Ecoart Network a group of more than 200 internationally established practitioners Ecoart in Action stands as a field guide that offers practical solutions to critical environmental challenges Organized into three sections Activities Case Studies and Provocations each contribution provides models for ecoart practice that are adaptable for use within a variety of classrooms communities and contexts Educators developing project and place based learning curricula citizens policymakers scientists land managers and those who work with communities human and other will find inspiration for integrating art science and community engaged practices into on the ground environmental projects If you share a concern for the environmental crisis and believe art can provide new options this book is for you

Art, Space, Ecology John K. Grande,2019-10-15 In Art Space Ecology internationally renowned curator and critic John K Grande interviews twenty major contemporary artists whose works engage with the natural environment Whether their medium is sculpture nature interventions performance body art or installation these discussions complemented by eighty stunning photographs reveal the artists diverse backgrounds and methods expressions and realizations Ultimately the natural world serves as a canvas to explore the intersections of art space and the environment thereby raising questions about our relationship with landscape itself The essence of the art form is a dynamic interactivity and the dialogues between Grande and the artists mirror the encounter of object and environment artist and audience society and nature This work is rounded out with an engaging introduction by writer and curator Edward Lucie Smith who sets the stage for some of the most insightful and compelling discussions on art to be found

To Life! Linda Weintraub,2012-09-01 This title documents the burgeoning eco art movement from A to Z presenting a panorama of artistic responses to environmental concerns from Ant Farms anti consumer antics in the 1970s to Marina Zurkows 2007 animation that anticipates the havoc wreaked upon the planet by global warming DIY Citizenship Matt Ratto,Megan Boler,2014-02-07 How social media and DIY communities have enabled new forms of political participation that emphasize doing and making rather than passive consumption Today DIY do it yourself describes more than self taught carpentry Social media enables DIY citizens to organize and protest in new ways as in Egypt's Twitter revolution of 2011 and to repurpose corporate content or create new user generated content in order to offer political counternarratives. This book examines the usefulness and limits of DIY citizenship exploring the diverse forms of political participation and critical making that have emerged in recent years. The authors and artists in this collection describe DIY citizens whose activities range from activist fan blogging and video production to knitting and the creation of community gardens. Contributors examine DIY activism describing new modes of civic engagement that include Harry Potter fan activism and the activities of the Yes Men. They consider DIY making in learning culture hacking and the arts including do it yourself media production and collaborative documentary making. They discuss DIY and design and how citizens can unlock the black box of technological infrastructures to engage and innovate open and participatory critical making. And they explore DIY and media describing activists efforts to remake and reimagine media and the public sphere. As these chapters make clear DIY is characterized by its emphasis on doing and making rather than passive consumption. DIY citizens assume active roles as interventionists makers hackers modders and tinkerers in pursuit of new forms of engaged and participatory democracy. Contributors: Mike Ananny, Chris Atton, Alexandra Bal, Megan Boler, Catherine Burwell, Red Chidgey, Andrew Clement, Negin Dahya, Suzanne de Castell, Carl DiSalvo, Kevin Driscoll, Christina Dunbar, Hester Joseph, Ferenbok, Stephanie Fisher, Miki Foster, Stephen Gilbert, Henry Jenkins, Jennifer Jenson, Yasmin B. Art and Intercultural Dialogue Susana Gonçalves, Suzanne Majhanovich, 2016-03-22. How can art act as an intercultural mediator for dialogue? In order to scrutinize this question relevant theoretical ideas are discussed and artistic intervention projects examined so as to highlight its cultural, political, economic, social and transformational impacts. This thought provoking work reveals why art is needed to help multicultural neighbourhoods and societies be sustainable as well as united by diversity. This edited collection underlines the significance of arts and media as a tool of understanding, mediation and communication across and beyond cultures. The chapters with a variety of conceptual and methodological approaches from particular contexts demonstrate the complexity in the dynamics of inter cultural communication, culture identity, arts and media. Overall the collection encourages readers to consider themselves as agents of the communication process promoting dialogue.
