will instruct you step by step on how to give your child an academically rigorous comprehensive education from preschool through high school one that will train him or her to read to think to understand to be well rounded and curious about learning. Veteran home educators Susan Wise Bauer and Jessie Wise outline the classical pattern of education called the trivium which organizes learning around the maturing capacity of the child's mind and comprises three stages the elementary school grammar stage when the building blocks of information are absorbed through memorization and rules the middle school logic stage in which the student begins to think more analytically and the high school rhetoric stage where the student learns to write and speak with force and originality. Using this theory as your model you'll be able to instruct your child whether full time or as a supplement to classroom education in all levels of reading writing history geography mathematics science foreign languages rhetoric logic art and music regardless of your own aptitude in those subjects. Thousands of parents and teachers have already used the detailed book lists and methods described in The Well Trained Mind to create a truly superior education for the children in their care. This extensively revised fourth edition contains completely updated curricula and book lists links to an entirely new set of online resources new material on teaching children with learning challenges cutting edge math and sciences recommendations answers to common questions about home education and advice on practical matters such as standardized testing working with your local school board designing a high school program preparing transcripts and applying to colleges. Mathematical Fallacies, Flaws, and Flimflam Edward Barbeau, 2000-06-15

Through hard experience mathematicians have learned to subject even the most evident assertions to rigorous scrutiny as intuition and facile reasoning can often lead them astray. However the impossibility and impracticality of completely watertight arguments make it possible for errors to slip by the most watchful eye. They are often subtle and difficult of detection. When found they can teach us a lot and can present a real challenge to straighten out. Presenting students with faulty arguments to troubleshoot can be an effective way of helping them critically understand material and it is for this reason that I began to compile fallacies and publish them first in the Notes of the Canadian Mathematical Society and later in the College Mathematics Journal in the Fallacies Flaws and Flimflam section. I hoped to challenge and amuse readers as well as to provide them with material suitable for teaching and student assignments. This book collects the items from the first eleven years of publishing in the CMJ. One source of such errors is the work of students. Occasionally a text book will weigh in with a specious result or solution. Nonprofessional sources such as newspapers are responsible for a goodly number of mishaps particularly in arithmetic especially percentages and probability. Their use in classrooms may help students become critical readers and listeners of the media. Quite a few items come from professional mathematicians. The reader will find in this book some items that are not erroneous but seem to be. These need a fuller analysis to clarify the situation. All the items are presented for your entertainment and use The mathematical topics covered include algebra trigonometry geometry probability calculus linear algebra and modern algebra     The Cost of Food Ellen Henrietta Richards,1901     A Treatise on Design and Construction of Roofs Nathan Clifford Ricker,1912     Gas and Fuel Analysis for Engineers Augustus Herman Gill,1913     The Textile Fibers Joseph Merritt Matthews,1913     Electric Furnaces in the Iron and Steel Industry Wilhelm Rodenhauser,I.
