Masculinities in Post-Millennial Popular Romance Eirini Arvanitaki, 2022-05-12 This book focuses on the projection of the hero's masculinity in a selection of post-millennial popular romance narratives and attempts to discover if and to what extent this projection reinforces or challenges patriarchal ideas about gender. In the majority of these narratives the hero is often presented as a hegemonic alpha male. However, hegemonic masculinity is not a fixed concept. Rather, it is subject to continuous change which allows for the emergence of various dominant masculinities. Under a poststructuralist lens and through a close textual analysis approach and a gender reading of romance narratives, the book suggests that to a certain extent the romance hero could be described as a platform onto which different forms of dominant masculinity are displayed and highlights that these masculinities do not necessarily clash, depend on or function as a prerequisite for each other.

Border Crossings and Mobilities on Screen Ruxandra Trandafoiu, 2022-06-08 Border Crossings and Mobilities on Screen explores the movement, fluidity, and change characterizing contemporary life as represented on screen media from mobile devices to television, film, computers, video art, and advertising displays. People have never moved around more and increasingly, migration and mobility has come to shape both our understandings of ourselves and the ways in which we interpret and mediate the world we live in. As people move, media plays a key role in shaping and reshaping identity and belonging, opening the doors to transnational and transcultural participation. Drawing on screen media case studies from around the world, this book demonstrates how screen mobilities reconfigure notions of space, place, network, and border regimes. The increasing ease of consumption and production of media has allowed for an unprecedented fluidity and mobility of class, gender, sexuality, nation, and transnation, individual freedoms and aspirations. Putting people at the core of the book, this book shows the many ways in which people are using screen media to create identity, participation, and meaning. The rich picture built up over the many chapters of this interdisciplinary volume raise important questions about the nature of contemporary media experiences. At a time of great change in the ways in which people move and connect with each other, this book provides an important global snapshot for researchers across the fields of media communication and screen studies, sociology of communication, global studies, and transnationalism, cultural studies, culture and identity, digital cultures, travel, tourism, and place.

Library Programs and Services for New Adults Kyla Hunt, 2017-10-06 Addressing the needs of new adults, those ages 18-29, in the library is an important challenge. This book explains the needs and wants of new adults in the public library setting and identifies their preferences in physical space, programming, and technology. According to the Pew Research Center's 2015 Libraries at the Crossroads Report, 52 percent of people between the ages of 16 and 29 visited a bookmobile or library within the past year. Yet many public libraries' programming and outreach skip over this demographic, jumping from teen services to older adults. Library Programs and Services for New Adults provides a road map for including new adults into the family of the small public library and offers a variety of resources and programming ideas that librarians can use immediately Author Kyla Hunt a library technology and trends specialist explains why the needs of new adults are typically overlooked at public libraries defines who new adults are and explains why serving their needs is key to the success of today's public libraries Readers will come away with an in depth understanding of the mindset and needs of patrons who are 18 to 29 years old and be able to cater to their preferences as they pertain to physical space programming technology and marketing
