Cell Traffic Cell Traffic:

Cell Traffic Heid E. Erdrich, 2012-11-01 Cell Traffic presents new poems and uncollected prose poetry along with selected work from award winning poet Heid Erdrich's three previous poetry collections Erdrich's new work reflects her continuing concerns with the tensions between science and tradition between spirit and body She finds surprising common ground while exploring indigenous experience in multifaceted ways personal familial biological and cultural The title Cell Traffic suggests motion and Erdrich considers multiple movements cellular transfer the traffic of DNA through body parts and bones migration through procreation and the larger movements of indigenouness and ancestral inheritance Erdrich's wry sensibility sly wit and keenly insightful mind have earned her a loyal following Her point of view is always slightly off center and this lends a particular freshness to her poetry The debunking and debating of the science of origins is one of Erdrich's focal subjects In this collection she turns her observational eye to the search for a genetic mother of humanity forensic anthropology's quest for the oldest known bones and online offers of genetic testing But her interests are not limited to science She freely admits popular culture into her purview as well referencing sci fi television series and Internet pop up ads
