Gray, 2016-01-28 Crime Policing and Punishment in England 1660 1914 offers an overview of the changing nature of crime and its punishment from the Restoration to World War 1 It charts how prosecution and punishment have changed from the early modern to the modern period and reflects on how the changing nature of English society has affected these processes By combining extensive primary material alongside a thorough analysis of historiography this text offers an invaluable resource to students and academics alike The book is arranged in two sections the first looks at the evolution and development of the criminal justice system and the emergence of the legal profession and examines the media s relationship with crime Section two examines key themes in the history of crime covering the emergence of professional policing the move from physical punishment to incarceration and the importance of gender and youth Finally the book draws together these themes and considers how the Criminal Justice System has developed to suit the changing nature of the British state

The Indian Law Examination Manual Fendall Currie, 1873 Reports of Cases Determined in the Supreme Court of the Philippine Islands from ... Philippines. Supreme Court, 1907 Police Report of the Bombay Presidency Including Sind and Railways Bombay (India : State). Police Dept, 1897 The Prevention and Control of Robbery , 1973 Shocks and coping: Findings from the sixth round of the Myanmar Household Welfare Survey (June - November 2023) Myanmar Agriculture Policy Support Activity, 2024-03-25 The sixth round of the Myanmar Household Welfare Survey MHWS

a nationally and regionally representative phone survey was implemented between August and November 2023. It follows five rounds that were carried out since the beginning of December 2021. This report discusses the findings from the sixth round related to shocks and coping strategies. The security situation in Myanmar continued to deteriorate during the sixth round recall period which spanned from June to November 2023. Households felt insecure in their communities as reported by 23 percent of households and had a low level of trust as reported by 25 percent of households. This is because crime and violence continued to increase affecting 20 and 10 percent of communities respectively. Further eight percent of households were directly affected by violence either through violence against a household member robbery or appropriation and or destruction of their assets. Lawlessness continues to rise in Myanmar. In June November 2023 21 percent of households reported a lot or some gambling in their community 20 percent reported a high risk of burglary theft or robbery in their community and 16 percent reported drug use. These issues were more prominent in urban areas compared to rural areas. Another crucial challenge is that 15 percent of respondents felt that it was dangerous for them to move around and do everyday tasks in June November 2023. Finally three percent of respondents revealed that there was a risk of kidnapping in their community. The two states/regions where households felt the most insecure between June and November 2023 were Kayah and Chin. At the same time the security situation in Rakhine Tanintharyi and Sagaing decreased the most compared to the same time last year. These areas witnessed the highest increases in lawlessness. While the lowest levels of reported insecurity continued to be in Ayeyarwady Bago and Nay Pyi Taw these regions are still confronting much of the same risks as experienced across the country. Households faced multiple shocks besides insecurity. In June November 2023 19 percent of farm households reported being negatively impacted by at least one climatic shock. Intense wind was a major issue in Rakhine with 28 percent of households negatively impacted. Disruptions to the internet and electricity also negatively affected household wellbeing and livelihoods. For residents that accessed electricity from the national power grid 55 percent of households had a power cut of at least one hour from 8 00 am to 8 00 pm all seven days of the week prior to the interview. Further between June and November of 2023 almost half of the households 48 percent did not have access to the internet regularly. Access to medical services and school enrolment improved at the end of 2023 compared to the end of 2022. The percentage of households who could never access medical services dropped from eight percent in July December 2022 to two percent in June November 2023. School enrollment improved from 79 percent of children aged 5 to 14 enrolled in July December 2022 to 86 percent of children enrolled in June November 2023. The rate of food inflation rose to 24 percent between March June 2023 and September November 2023 on average 5 percent per month. The prices of most foods in our survey increased considerably in the one year period between October December 2022 and September November 2023 with median rice prices increasing by 75 percent. Further the contribution of rice prices to the rising cost of the food inflation basket has become more important over time. On the other hand vegetable prices exhibited substantial volatility with large increases in prices between the third and fourth quarters of both 2022 and 2023 Seventy five percent of households used at least one coping strategy to meet daily needs during the month prior to the sixth round survey June November 2023 The three most common coping strategies used were spending savings reducing non food expenditure and reducing food expenditure This has been consistent across rounds Further some households exhausted some or all of their coping strategies Thirty five percent of households reported that they no longer have any savings to reduce Finally the number of households who borrowed money 30 percent decreased significantly from the previous year 38 percent but was still slightly higher than in the beginning of 2023 At the same time 49 percent of households continued to be in debt     The Insurance Law Journal ,1915     The Solicitors' Journal and Weekly Reporter ,1910     Washington Reports ... Washington (State).
