Cartographies of Transnationalism in Postcolonial Feminisms Jamil Khader, 2013 This book proffers a new theory of the radical possibilities of contemporary postcolonial feminist writings from Africa the Middle East the Americas and the Caribbean against what can be described as actually existing colonialisms These writers include prominent and other less known postcolonial women writers such as Tsitsi Dangarembga Louise Erdrich Aurora Levins Morales Rosario Morales Esmeralda Santiago Raymonda Tawil Michelle Cliff and Rigoberta Mench Negotiating the contradictions among gender nation and globalization postcolonial women writers construct extimate subjectivities that mark their excessive locations in the social field through the dialectical relation between the intimate and the external the intimately or internally external articulating these contradictions within the larger history and narratives of anti colonial internationalist struggle for liberation and emancipation Grounded in a commitment to the future of the postcolonial nation and the project of decolonization and liberation within the ever encroaching neocolonial global capitalist system postcolonial women s narratives of displacing offer not only an alternative mode of ideological critique of scripted and commonly inherited discourses of identity home culture that obfuscate the fundamental social antagonism but also ways of changing them through practices of radical politics The book thus charts four intersecting dialogic strategies by which postcolonial women writers produce extimate subjectivities travel unhomeliness multiple and shifting subject positions and transnational alliances First specific strategies of travel voluntary and involuntary within glocal networks of dispossession displacement and labor migration that foreground their extimate locations as internally external Second tactics of unhomeliness that uncover traces of the foreign and elsewhere in the edifice of the familiar that serve as the basis for interrogating dominant discourses of belonging Third techniques of multiple and shifting subject positions that recognize the excessive location of the extimate subject in order to unravel not only the contingency of the subject s ontic properties but also her locations in the interplay of oppression and privilege And fourth strategies for building political solidarity with transnational and transethnic communities of struggle that are grounded in the concrete Universality of the excluded communities This book bears witness to the radical possibility in contemporary postcolonial feminist writing and promises a way out of the impasse of the current culturalization of politics in the humanities that has resulted from the uncritical celebration of hybridity and the concomitant emphasis on diaspora postnationalism and cosmopolitanism in dominant discourses of postcolonial ethnic and transnational studies

Psychology of Global Crises and Crisis Politics Irene Strasser, Martin Dege, 2021-11-03 This edited volume brings together some of the most prominent scholars in the fields of theoretical critical and political psychology to examine crisis phenomena The book investigates the role of psychology as a science in times of crisis discusses how socio political change affects the discipline and profession and renders psychological interventions as forms of political action The authors examine how notions of crisis and the interpretation of crisis scenarios are heavily intertwined with governmental and state interests Seeking to disentangle individual subjectivity subjectification and science as forms of politics the volume works toward an explicit goal to decolonize psychology The chapters elaborate on the importance of the psychological sciences in times of crisis and the role of psychologists as practitioners Ultimately the diverse contributions underline the connection of scientific theory practice and politics Interdisciplinary in scope and wide ranging in its perspectives this timely work will appeal to students and scholars of theoretical and political psychology critical psychology and cultural studies Universal Politics

Ilan Kapoor, Zahi Zalloua, 2021-09-17 In Universal Politics Ilan Kapoor and Zahi Zalloua argue for a negative universality rooted in social antagonism i e shared experiences of exploitation and marginalization They examine what a universal politics might look like today in the context of key global sites of struggle including climate change workers struggles the Palestinian question the refugee crisis Black Lives Matter MeToo Political Islam the Bolivian state under Morales the European Union and COVID 19 The Colonizers' Idols Christina Harker, 2018-02-02 In this work Christina Harker deconstructs the prevailing treatment of the New Testament as anti imperial by contextualizing both New Testament scholarship and the Galatian experience within imperialist discourses that survived the dissolution of conventional empires in the twentieth century She critiques simplistic treatments of empire as post imperial that is replicating patterns of imperialist ideology albeit unwittingly To solve the problem a new interpretation of Galatians is proposed that reworks and complicates the portrait of the Galatians themselves rather than Paul within what then emerges as a diverse social world peopled by complex individuals with heterogeneous social and cultural identities The author is thus able to show how New Testament scholars who rehabilitate the Bible and Paul as anti empire perpetuate the same imperialist modes of interpretation they seek to repudiate The Psychosis of Race Jack Black, 2023-12-01 The Psychosis of Race offers a unique and detailed account of the psychoanalytic significance of race and the ongoing impact of racism in contemporary society Moving beyond the well trodden assertion that race is a social construction and working against demands that simply call for more representational equality The Psychosis of Race explores how the delusions anxieties and paranoia that frame our race relations can afford new insights into how we see think and understand race s pervasive appeal With examples drawn from politics and popular culture such as Candyman Get Out and the music of Kendrick Lamar critical attention is given to introducing as well as explicating on several key concepts from Lacanian psychoanalysis and the study of psychosis including foreclosure the phallus Name of the Father sinthome and the objet petit a By elaborating a cultural mode to psychosis and its understanding an original and critical exposition of the effects of racialization as well as our ability to discern the very limits of our capacity to think through or even beyond the idea of race is provided The Psychosis of Race speaks to an emerging area in the study of psychoanalysis and race and will appeal to scholars and academics across the fields of psychology sociology cultural studies media studies and the arts and humanities
