Leary-Owhin, John P. McCarthy, 2019-11-21 The Routledge Handbook of Henri Lefebvre The City and Urban Society is the first edited book to focus on Lefebvre's urban theories and ideas from a global perspective making use of recent theoretical and empirical developments with contributions from eminent as well as emergent global scholars. The book provides international comparison of Lefebvrian research and theoretical conjecture and aims to engage with and critique Lefebvre's ideas in the context of contemporary urban social and environmental upheavals to use Lefebvre's spatial triad as a research tool as well as a point of departure for the adoption of ideas such as differential space to reassess Lefebvre's ideas in relation to nature and global environmental sustainability and to highlight how a Lefebvrian approach might assist in mobilising resistance to the excesses of globalised neoliberal urbanism. The volume draws inspiration from Lefebvre's key texts The Production of Space, Critique of Everyday Life and The Urban Revolution and includes a comprehensive introduction and concluding chapter by the editors. The conclusions highlight implications in relation to increasing spatial inequalities, increasing diversity of needs including those of migrants, more authoritarian approaches and asymmetries of access to urban space. Above all, the book illustrates the continuing relevance of Lefebvre's ideas for contemporary urban issues and shows via global case studies how resistance to spatial domination by powerful interests might be achieved. The Handbook helps the reader navigate the complex terrain of spatial research inspired by Lefebvre. In particular, the Handbook focuses on the series of struggles globally for the right to the city and the collision of debates around the urban age, cityism and planetary urbanisation. It will be a guide for graduate and advanced undergraduate teaching and a key reference for academics in the fields of Human Geography, Sociology, Political Science, Applied Philosophy, Planning, Urban Theory and Urban Studies. Practitioners and activists in the field will also find the book of relevance.

Umbrella, 1999 "Catch If You Can Your Country's Moment" William S. Waddell, 2007. The eight essays in this collection explore the work of Adrienne Rich, one of America's most significant living writers and a poet and a public intellectual with a substantial audience both inside and outside the academy. Taken together, the essays argue for a shift in the perceived center of gravity of Rich's career from the passionate and eloquent poems of a largely personal feminist awakening from the mid 60s to the early 80s to the equally if differently passionate and eloquent poems of a more broadly public re-imagining of our country and its history beginning with her work of the mid 1980s. Rich has remained committed to the reconstruction of poetry's place in public as well as private life nationally and globally. From varied perspectives accessible to the common reader as well as the specialist, the collection addresses Rich's negotiation of the boundary between these public and private spheres and the potential of poetry as a revolutionary medium and alternate epistemology, a means as the title expresses it of recovery and regeneration. Rich has aimed always as the last lines of her poem Planetarium 1968 have it, at the relief of the body and the reconstruction of the mind and this collection works to describe her effort to extend the reach of that healing motive across a continent and a culture. In these eight keenly executed essays edited by William Waddell, we see Rich finally removing those asbestos gloves once used to handle sizzling political topics. Critics in this volume show Adrienne Rich struggling barehanded with changing poetic strategies, complex new subject

positions and the relations of power and cultural practice in the constitution of history Transformative cartographer of words and perceptions Rich as Waddell argues outlines oea method for redefining American space remapping North American culture for the marginalized the repressed and the resistant Waddell TM s collection celebrates the polyphony of politics and aesthetics in Rich TM s work shaping for the reader an ethical discourse intensively visible for the first time in volumes such as An Atlas of the Difficult World Poems 1988 1991 but equally present throughout Rich TM s prose and poetry Mary Lynn Broe Caroline Werner Gannett Professor Rochester Institute of Technology Cartographies of New York and Other Postwar American Cities Monica Manolescu, 2018-10-03 Cartographies of New York and Other Postwar American Cities Art Literature and Urban Spaces explores phenomena of urban mapping in the discourses and strategies of a variety of postwar artists and practitioners of space Allan Kaprow Claes Oldenburg Vito Acconci Gordon Matta Clark Robert Smithson Rebecca Solnit Matthew Buckingham contemporary Situationist projects The distinctive approach of the book highlights the interplay between texts and site oriented practices which have often been treated separately in critical discussions Monica Manolescu considers spatial investigations that engage with the historical and social conditions of the urban environment and reflect on its mediated nature Cartographic procedures that involve walking and surveying are interpreted as unsettling and subversive possibilities of representing and navigating the postwar American city The book posits mapping as a critical nexus that opens up new ways of studying some of the most important postwar artistic engagements with New York and other American cities
