"Nothing is more powerful than an idea whose time has come."
- Victor Hugo

What is CPS?

The Classroom Performance System is a revolutionary tool which brings interactivity to the lecture theatre or classroom. CPS is a wireless response system that gives you immediate feedback from every student in the class.

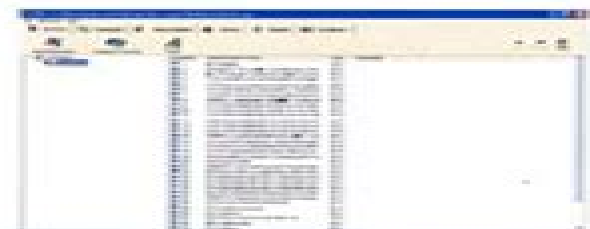

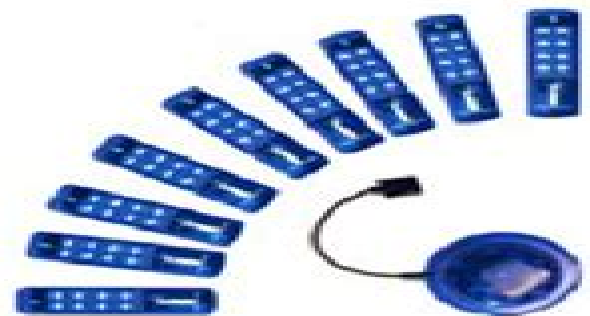

Each CPS unit comes with up to 512 individual response pads and an appropriate number of corresponding receiver units. CPS units also include easy-to-use software for creating questions and assessments to deliver to your class.

With CPS you can ask questions designed around the key points of your lecture and receive answers instantly from students. Every student simply responds with their individual, wireless response pad, providing instant results. CPS is the perfect tool for engaging students whilst gathering important assessment data and feedback on student knowledge levels.

What can you do with CPS?

- Take attendance.
- Give and grade quizzes and tests.
- Create your own lessons.
- Review responses to verbal questions.
- Stimulate class discussion.
- Use the grade book function to manage students grades.
- Integrate interactivity to your PowerPoint presentations.

Using interactive technology in class is easy with McGraw-Hill.
