Civics Guided Activity Answer Key:

Teaching Civic Literacy Projects Shira Eve Epstein, 2014 This practical resource shows teachers how to enact robust forms of civic education in today's schools. Both instructive and thought provoking, it will inspire teachers to craft curricula addressing a wide range of genuine civic problems such as those related to racial discrimination, environmental damage and community health. Dividing civic literacy projects into three key phases—problem identification, problem exploration, and action—the author provides concrete examples from upper elementary, middle, and high school classrooms to illustrate and analyze how each phase can unfold. The projects ultimately provide opportunities for youth to participate in civic life while they develop essential literacy skills associated with reading, writing, and speaking. The final chapter outlines a curriculum design process that will result in coherent and meaningful civic literacy projects driven by clear goals. It includes practical tools such as a sample unit timeline, an assessment chart, and student worksheets that can be modified for immediate use. Shira's work offers us a reflection of democratic practice in the classroom through the teaching of critical reading, persuasive writing, and deliberation.

In Teaching Civic Literacy Projects Shira invites us all to contemplate the depth of the democratic project and the possibility that schools can help uphold our democratic ideals. From the Foreword by Celia Oyler, professor, Teachers College, Columbia University. This book is a gem. Shira Epstein has provided invaluable assistance for teachers interested in engaging their students in the political and civic spheres in ways that build crucial literacy skills. The combination of a powerful framework and rich and detailed case studies provides readers with a clear vision and helpful specific guidance for creating robust civic learning experiences for young people.

Diana Hess, senior vice president, Spencer Foundation, and professor, University of Wisconsin, Madison. Excellent civic education means encouraging young people to identify and define problems and take action. That is challenging in our era of political polarization and narrow definitions of education. Shira Eve Epstein provides the best practical guide for teachers who want their students to confront social problems.

Peter Levine, Lincoln Filene Professor of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Tufts University. Civic Participation in America Q. Kidd, 2016-04-30. This book argues that the declining nature of traditional forms of civic participation over the last half century are the result of the evolution of larger institutional, social, and historical forces that have favored the self-interest motivation at the expense of civic duty.

Assessing Service-Learning and Civic Engagement Sherril B. Gelmon, Barbara A. Holland, Amy Spring, 2018-09-06. This book offers a broad overview of many issues related to assessment in higher education, with specific application for understanding the impact of service learning and civic engagement initiatives. This revised edition includes an additional chapter that explores recent changes in the assessment landscape and offers examples and resources for designing assessment strategies for community engagement in higher education. The original text includes narrative addressing assessment issues and strategies, a detailed discussion of learning from multiple research projects performed over the past two decades about impact on multiple constituencies (students, faculty, communities, and institutions) and a discussion of strategies for data collection analysis synthesis and reporting Specific assessment instruments for use with each constituency are provided including suggestions for administration preparation and data analysis This volume will be helpful for individuals seeking a comprehensive resource on assessment issues in higher education

Building Civic Capacity

,2001 The authors of this volume argue that urban education is in urgent need of reform and that although there have been plenty of innovative and even promising attempts to improve conditions most have been doomed The reason for this they agree lies in the failure of our major cities to develop their civic capacity The ability to build and maintain a broad social and political coalition across all sectors of the urban community in pursuit of a common goal
