Cleaning House Lindsay Dahl, 2015-08-05 From the front lines of the movement for safer products environmental health expert Lindsay Dahl takes us on her journey from skeptic to activist exposing the secret forces that keep toxic chemicals in our homes bodies and environment showing us how to fight back and keep our families safe In Cleaning House Lindsay Dahl shows how seemingly innocuous items everything from toys to common beauty and cleaning products can include toxic chemicals thanks to a consistent failure of regulation in the United States The scientific research linking toxic chemicals in products to rising rates of cancer and reproductive harms is as strong as the science that led to banning lead from gasoline PBCs and DDT But with varying degrees of protective guardrails in place for the everyday items consumers are tasked with playing toxic chemical detective and those unable to afford safer products are left hanging in the balance Through vivid storytelling and robust scientific evidence Dahl makes a compelling case that a safer world will only arrive through systemic change We must turn off the tap of toxic chemicals before they make their way into our homes and bodies and here she shows you how Drawing on Dahl's extensive experience as a lobbyist product formulator and a parent she unravels the shocking web of political and cultural factors that landed us here and are key to solving this massive public health crisis Dahl takes readers behind the scenes as a young but determined lobbyist fighting powerful chemical industry players which she discovered are replicating Big Tobacco's disinformation playbook by downplaying the harms of the toxic chemicals they continue to profit from And she introduces readers to the brilliant scientists doing ground breaking research legislators passing life saving laws forward thinking business leaders communities facing the highest level of exposure to toxic chemical pollution and parents from all political stripes who have joined the fight for a safer world Told through a compelling David
