Kincheloe, 2007-08-24 Maintaining that urban teaching and learning is characterized by numerous contradictions this book proposes that there is a wide range of social cultural psychological and pedagogical knowledge that urban educators must possess in order to engage in effective and transformative practice. It is necessary for teachers in urban schools to be scholar practitioners as opposed to bureaucrats who only follow rather than analyze understand and create. Ten major sections cover the myriad issues of urban education as it exists today context of urban education race and ethnicity social justice teaching and pedagogy power and urban education language issues cultural issues of urban schools as seen in the media research in city schools aesthetics and the proximity of cultural institutions and education policy. Sixty one essays written by specialists in teacher education public policy sociology psychology applied linguistics forestry urban studies school administration cultural studies evaluation and linguistics provide a blueprint for scholars teachers parents urban politicians school administrators policy professionals and others seeking to understand the situation of urban schools across America today.
