will learn how designed light is used to enhance the audience's understanding and enjoyment of a production. The book includes specific information on drafting the light plot, explores the challenges of designing for different stage configurations, and provides examples of lighting designs for dramas, musicals, and dance. It also features comments and thoughts from active designers from both mainstream theatrical productions and related industries. Written for students of Lighting Design and Technology as well as professional technicians and designers, Designing with Light offers a comprehensive survey of the practical and aesthetic aspects of stage lighting design.

Designing with Light Victoria Meyers, 2006. In the first chapter of Designing with Light, Meyers summarizes recent developments in the science of light and their cultural impact and then surveys the uses of light in contemporary visual art, theater, film, and even music. This overview reveals how the work of artists as diverse as videographer Bill Viola, stage director Robert Wilson, and composer John Cage can lend architects insight into the properties of light. Each of the following chapters is devoted to one aspect of light in contemporary architecture, beginning with Color and continuing with Lines, Form, Glass, Windows, Sky, Frames, Shadows, and finally Reflections. Within these chapters, some two hundred vivid color photographs illustrate the myriad ways in which architects like Zaha Hadid, Herzog & de Meuron, Rem Koolhaas, and John Pawson have employed light internally and externally in their recent commissions. Enriched with this abundance of images as well as with numerous insights from Meyers's own architectural practice, Designing with Light will appeal to every student, practitioner, and enthusiast of contemporary architecture.

BOOK JACKET

Light: The Shape of Space Lou Michel, 1995-10-27. Light: The Shape of Space. Designing with Space and Light. Lou Michel. Every design professional who touches a space shapes the light and the feeling of that space. Architect, lighting engineer, interior designer, lighting or home furnishing manufacturer: each contributes an aesthetic layer, sometimes yielding unexpected results. All too often, the best-laid plans of one professional are unintentionally subverted by another. Removing surprises and guesswork from design, Lou Michel, honored architectural lighting educator, has created Light: The Shape of Space, showing how to design with the effects of light rather than light itself. The book is a revolutionary resource for all design professionals and manufacturers of surfacing materials. Drawing on over fifteen years' experience of research and teaching in the Architectural Space and Light Laboratory at The University of Kansas, Michel masterfully examines the interrelationship of lighting and the design of architectural space as perceived not in architectural photos or paint chips and fabric swatches but by human vision, the gateway to emotional response. The book was written for professionals who care about how people feel in the spaces they design and focuses on the humanization of architecture. Taking a non-stylistic approach to design, Michel analyzes architecture from the perspective of how the users see their surroundings as they move through space. The reader will learn what pleases and what disturbs people based on how the human visual system responds to color, texture, pattern, and brightness. The book features principles of design for the student and professional and is generously supported by illustrations and research. Michel also provides a method for evaluating the visual effectiveness of building materials and lighting systems including those that will appear on the market long after this book is dog eared Michel unveils a groundbreaking luminance brightness rating system LBR and a nine zone brightness scale to aid designers in previsualizing the appearance of surfacing materials at every stage of the design process from schematics to development to refinement Among the topics treated are the interaction of lighting and spatial design color theory for space and light the luminance relationships between free standing objects and the surrounding spatial boundaries against which they are seen the appearance of building materials in color and brightness when modified by light and spatial location lighting spatial connections including the perception of rooms adjacent to the observer lighting and perception of spaces screened by architectural grilles creating lighted space Designing with the effects of light is both an art and a science No other book on the market bridges that gap as successfully as Light The Shape of Space Designing with Light J. Michael Gillette,1998 This book offers a comprehensive survey of the practical and aesthetic aspects of stage lighting design Publisher s description Designing with Light J.
