Question And Answers

Phonics - A method of teaching students to read by correlating sounds with letters or groups of letters in an alphabetic writing system. Children are taught, for example, that the letter n represents the sound /n/, and that it is the first letter in words such as nose, nice and new.

Phonological Processing - The use of phonemes to process spoken and written language. The broad category of phonological processing includes phonological awareness, phonological working memory, and phonological retrieval.

Phonological Awareness - Awareness of the sound structure of a language and the ability to consciously analyze and manipulate this structure via a range of tasks, such as speech sound segmentation and blending at the word, onset-rime, syllable, and phonemic levels.

Development of Phonological Awareness -

1. Word awareness
2. Responsiveness to rhyme and alliteration during word play
3. Syllable awareness
4. Onset and rime manipulation
5. Phoneme awareness

1. Word awareness - Tracking the words in sentences. Knowledge that words have meaning. (less important to teach directly)

Strategy: read-aloud, alphabet chants, high-frequency word books

2. Responsiveness to rhyme and alliteration during word play - Enjoying and reciting learned rhyming words or alliterative phrases in familiar storybooks or nursery rhymes.

Strategy: poetry books, alphabet chants, picture flashcards w/ objects whose names rhyme.

(Flashcards can be used in sorting and classifying activities.)

3. Syllable awareness - Counting, tapping, blending, or segmenting a word into syllables.

Strategy: Flashcards w/ objects whose names contain different numbers of syllables.

(Flashcards can be used in sorting activity.)

4. Onset and rime manipulation - Onset is the initial consonant in a one-syllable word. Rime includes the remaining sounds, including the vowel and any sounds that follow. The ability to produce a rhyming word depends on understanding that rhyming words have the same rime. Recognizing a rhyme is much easier than producing a rhyme.
