Using an Inclusive Approach to Reduce School Exclusion Tristan Middleton,Lynda Kay,2019-08-29 Clear and accessible Using an Inclusive Approach to Reduce School Exclusion supports an inclusive approach to teaching and learning to help schools find ways to reduce exclusion and plan alternative approaches to managing the pathways of learners at risk Offering a summary of the contemporary context of DfE and school policy in England this book considers Statistics and perspectives from Ofsted The literature of exclusion and recent research into effective provision for learners with SEN The key factors underlying school exclusion Case studies and practical approaches alongside theory and research The impact of exclusion on learners at risk Written by experienced practitioners Using an Inclusive Approach to Reduce School Exclusion encourages a proactive approach to reducing exclusion through relatable scenarios and case studies An essential toolkit to support the development of inclusive practice and reduce exclusion this book is an invaluable resource for SENCOs middle and senior leaders Facilitating Young People's Development Michael Behr, Jeffrey H. D.

Cornelius-White, 2008 Facilitating children's and adolescents' growth has been a challenge and major concern for person centred work since the beginning of the approach in the 1940s. During the past decade a shift in this domain has generated numerous new concepts research and practice making a considerable impact on both the professional tasks and training of educators, counsellors and psychotherapists. Fifteen original chapters and a foreword from Brian Thorne describe this development. The chapters began as presentations from a symposium at the Potsdam PCE 2006 World Association conference thus reflecting international perspectives emerging around the world today. Framed by two chapters from the editors the book provides a comprehensive overview of state of the art person centred work with children, adolescents and parents and identifies emerging themes in the field Skills in Counselling and Psychotherapy with Children and Young People

Lorraine Sherman, 2014-11-10 As interest and training in counselling children and young people continues to grow it is essential that counsellors are equipped with the skills to work with this client group. In this book Lorraine Sherman draws on her years of experience in the field to provide a practical resource for qualified and trainee counsellors providing them with the necessary skills to ensure best practice with children and young people. Distinguishing between working with young children and with adolescents skills covered include establishing a therapeutic relationship, assessing a young client, contracting, counselling practice, understanding and maintaining confidentiality and disclosure. Using case studies and examples to help demonstrate skills in action this is essential reading for anyone planning to become or already engaged in the helping professions with young people Person-centred Therapy with Children and Young People David Smyth (Psychotherapist), 2013 This engaging new book presents a child centred model of therapy that is thoroughly person centred in its values. Establishing the roots of child centred therapy in both child development theories and the Rogerian model David Smyth demonstrates that counselling the person centred way is exceptionally relevant to young people. The book further develops child centred therapy theory and practice applying the model to real life practice with children and young people whether in play school organisations or with those with special needs. It also explores the complex professional issues so critical with this age group including challenging boundaries establishing an effective relationship with parents and other primary carers legal and ethical considerations and multi professional practice.
