Counselling Psychotherapy Professor Carolyn Noble:

Remaking Social Work for the New Global Era Ngoh Tiong Tan, P.K. Shajahan, 2022-08-30 Future social work practice requires a holistic framework to deal effectively with the great social and economic disruptions of this unprecedented time. Innovation and creativity are indispensable to empowering social workers and social service organizations to make an impact on the lives of people and societies in today's world. This book provides a range of innovative practices of social work drawing from alternate theories and with a global orientation. It is forward looking with a focus on social resilience, social inclusion and recovery. Using a strengths perspective, discussions in the chapters provide useful insights in restructuring social life and social services at the individual as well as community and societal levels for meeting the challenges of a new global era. The chapters draw on the experiences of the authors in their academic and practice engagements and focus on a variety of arenas of social work education and practice to enrich the understanding of the present and future of the field. Authors discuss theoretical and conceptual models to review social work education and practice of engaging in a fast changing global era and complex contexts. Topics explored include New Era for Social Work in the Global Future, Remaking Social Work by Applying an Anti-oppressive Lens, Vulnerability and Resilience of Refugee Women and Children, Critical Green Social Work as Futuristic Social Work Practice, Globalisation and the Future of Social Work Practice and Education, Equipping Social Workers for a New Global Era. Remaking Social Work for the New Global Era is an essential resource to inform practice, enrich teaching and direct future research for social work academics, researchers, educators, students and field supervisors as well as social care, social work and social service practitioners in both clinical and policy settings. The book also would be of interest to mental health and community professionals in various practice contexts across the globe.

Post-Anthropocentric Social Work Vivienne Bozalek, Bob Pease, 2020-12-21 This book seeks to trouble taken-for-granted assumptions of anthropocentrism and humanism in social work, those which perpetuate human privilege and human exceptionalism. The edited collection provides a different imaginary for social work by introducing ways of thinking otherwise that challenge human exceptionalism. Social work is at heart a liberal humanist project informed by a strong human rights framework. This edited collection draws on the literature on affect, feminist new materialism and critical posthumanism to critique the liberal framework which includes human rights. Disrupting the anthropocentrism in social work which positions humans as an elite species at the centre of world history, this book develops an ethical sensibility that values entanglements of humans, non-human life and the natural environment. The book provides new insights into environmental destruction, human-animal relations, gender inequality and male dominance as well as indigenous and settler colonial issues and critical and green social work. It will be of interest to all scholars and students of social work, community development, social policy and development studies more broadly.

Critical Supervision for the Human Services Lou Johnston, Carolyn Noble, Mel Gray, 2016-04-21

Practitioners in the helping professions today operate in challenging settings where budgets have been cut dramatically and progression and success are too often defined primarily by key performance indicators and strategic outcomes Tensions arise when such pressures conflict with helping professionals core responsibilities to provide excellent care advocate for patients or service users and to seek social justice This book introduces a critical model for supervision which addresses not only the human relationships and interactions involved in work but also the financial political and managerial environment in which the work is carried out It identifies how reflective practice alone is not enough to bring about transformational change and outlines how practitioners can learn in and through supervision drawing on ideas from critical pedagogy and organisational learning Practice examples are included to demonstrate the use of this approach within contemporary human service environments Providing a new approach for effective supervision this book will be of interest to practitioners managers researchers academics and students working across the human services including health care social services and criminal justice
