Countering Terrorism in East Africa Lauren Ploch,2011-03 The U S government has implemented a range of programs to counter violent extremist threats in East Africa in response to Al Qaeda's bombing of the U S embassies in Tanzania and Kenya in 1998 and subsequent transnational terrorist activity in the region. These programs include regional and bilateral efforts both military and civilian. The programs seek to build regional intelligence, military law enforcement and judicial capacities, strengthen aviation, port and border security, stem the flow of terrorist financing and counter the spread of extremist ideologies. Contents of this report: Overview, The Transnational Terrorist Threat in East Africa, The U S Response, Regional Programs, Bilateral Programs, Map and tables, A print on demand report. Countering Terrorism in East Africa Library of Congress, Congressional Research Service, 2010. Explores U S measures to prevent, deter and preempt terrorism in East Africa, focusing on response to threats posed by violent Islamist extremist groups such as Al Qaeda and Al Shabaab. Examines evolving threat posed by these groups in the region and discusses evolution of policies guiding U S response. Describes regional and bilateral counterterrorism programs including security assistance efforts to rebuild regional capacity to counter terrorist financing and transit and efforts to address root causes of extremism. Addresses select oversight issues for Congress. Includes tables. Countering Terrorism in East Africa Lauren Ploch, Blanchard, 2010. This report provides an overview of current U S counterterrorism assistance programs and influence operations in East Africa and explores some of the strategies underpinning them. It also provides a brief description of the evolving terrorist threat in the region. The security cooperation and civil affairs activities of the U S military in the region have grown substantially in the past decade, primarily in response to these threats and the report explores the various roles of the Departments of State, Defense, Homeland Security, Treasury, Justice and the U S Agency for International Development among other agencies in implementing counterterrorism and counterextremism programs in the region. The report does not address covert or clandestine operations to collect intelligence or capture or eliminate terrorist targets in the region. Failures of Imagination Michael McCaul, 2016. The sitting chairman of the Homeland Security Committee who receives daily intelligence about threats materializing against America depicts in real time the hazards that he believes are closer than we realize. From cyberwarriors who can cripple the Eastern seaboard to radicalized Americans in league with Islamic jihadists to invisible biological warfare many of the most pressing dangers are the ones he feels we've heard about the least and are doing the least about. This edited collection surveys how non-Western states have responded to the threats of domestic and international terrorism in ways consistent with and reflective of their broad historical, political, cultural and religious traditions. It presents a series of eighteen case studies of counterterrorism theory and practice in the non-Western world, including countries such as China, Japan, India, Pakistan, Egypt and Brazil. Eguavoen, 2006 Seven Africanist scholars from the African Strategic and Peace Research Group in Nigeria here address the threat of terrorism in the context of the global strategic climate The study is against the background of the altered shape of the global security equation and the devalued utility of the notion of security through state centric military preparedness They posit that failure to grasp its exact nature is leading to the spread to parts of Africa hitherto regarded as relatively safe Further the adverse socio political conditions on the continent have increased Africa s vulnerability They examine areas where the experiences of other regions are relevant providing both a regional and global context Professor Thomas Imobighe is Director of the Centre for Strategic and Development Studies at Ambrose Alli University Edo State Dr Agatha Eguavoen is Reader and Associate Professor in the Department of Sociology at Ambrose Alli University Edo State African Research & Documentation ,2007
