Central Daniel Kramb:

From Here Daniel Kramb, 2012-04-01 Written in the Now for the Now Daniel Kramb's new novel is a moving story about one of the biggest challenges we face about the activism of ordinary people and about a woman's quest for love and a place in the world Handbook on Migration and Security Philippe Bourbeau, 2017-04-28 This Handbook provides a state of the art analysis of the critically important links between migration and security in a globalising world and presents original contributions suggesting innovative and emerging frontiers in the study of the securitization of migration. Experts from different fields reflect on their respective conceptualisations of the migration security nexus and consider how an interdisciplinary and multifaceted dialogue can stimulate and enrich our understanding of the securitisation of migration in the contemporary world American Literature in Transition, 2000-2010 Rachel Greenwald Smith, 2017-12-28 American Literature in Transition 2000-2010 illuminates the dynamic transformations that occurred in American literary culture during the first decade of the twenty first century. The volume is the first major critical collection to address the literature of the 2000s a decade that saw dramatic changes in digital technology economics world affairs and environmental awareness. Beginning with an introduction that takes stock of the period's major historical cultural and literary movements the volume features accessible essays on a wide range of topics including genre fiction the treatment of social networking in literature climate change fiction the ascendency of Amazon and online booksellers 9/11 literature finance and literature and the rise of prestige television. Mapping the literary culture of a decade of promise and threat American Literature in Transition 2000-2010 provides an invaluable resource on twenty first century American literature for general readers students and scholars alike Climate Migration Calum Nicholson, Benoit Mayer, 2023-09-21 This book investigates the epistemological and ethical challenges faced by studies exploring the relations between climate change and human migration. At the heart of the contemporary preoccupation with climate change is a concern for its societal impacts. Among these its presumed effect on human migration is perhaps the most politically resonant regardless of whether that politics is oriented towards human or national security. There is however a problem research on the causal link between climate change and migration has shown it to be a highly equivocal one. By extension it remains unclear what if any response is required from law and policy. Carefully structured to guide the reader through the issue of climate migration in a logical and rigorous manner this book is the first to bring together key critiques caveats and cautions in order to systematically examine the challenges facing law policy and research on the topic. At a time in which both the effects of climate change and the causes of migration are of great public and political interest and in which these interests are often fraught with sentiment and freighted with politics the book brings dispassionately critical perspectives to bear on a topic that desperately needs it Minutes of the ...
