Literary Conversations in the Classroom Diane Barone, Rebecca Barone, 2016-12-02 Combining research with real-life classroom examples, this book demonstrates how high-level conversations centered on fiction and nonfiction can promote students' understanding and help them meet and exceed a spectrum of standards. The authors demonstrate how to use literary conversations in small heterogeneous groups to address multiple expectations within classrooms, such as close reading, vocabulary, background knowledge, literal and inferential comprehension, and responses to multimodal interpretation, nonfiction text features, and graphic organizers. The text includes the theoretical why and the very practical how to help teachers, grades 3-8, successfully implement serious, sustained student group conversations about their reading. The recommendations for heterogeneous groups rather than groups based on book selection or reading ability will support all students, struggling readers and those reading at or above grade level. This practical resource shows teachers how to group students heterogeneously, from inexperienced participants to sophisticated readers. Support each student as he or she reads a nonfiction or fiction book. Engage students in critical conversations.
