Coming To Writing And Other Essays:

The Coming Terror and Other Essays and Letters Robert Williams Buchanan, 1891 Scenes of the Apple Tamar Heller, Patricia Moran, 2012-02-01 Focusing on women's writing of the last two centuries Scenes of the Apple traces the intricate relationship between food and body image for women. Ranging over a variety of genres including novels, culinary memoirs and essays, the contributors explore works by a diverse group of writers including Mary Elizabeth Braddon, Toni Morrison, Tsitsi Dangarembga and Jeanette Winterson, as well as such nonliterary documents as discussions of Queen Victoria's appetite and news coverage of suffragettes' hunger strikes. Moreover, in addressing works by Hispanic, African, African American, Jewish and lesbian writers, the book explodes the myth that only white, privileged and heterosexual women are concerned with body image and shows the many cultural contexts in which food and cooking are important in women's literature. Above all, the essays pay tribute to the rich and multiple meanings of food in women's writing as a symbol for all kinds of delightful and transgressive desires.

Critical Writing for Embodied Approaches Elizabeth Mackinlay, 2019-02-21 Autoethnography is a unique discipline which steps inside and outside the self to experience, embody and express social and cultural meaning. At once a performative, political and poetic genre of research writing, it holds the potential to uncover the heart of the world if only for a moment. The author uses theory as story and story as theory to explore her place in the world through painstaking and intimate self and social narratives to lay bare the unique challenges and rewards of autoethnography. Framed around the metaphor of heartlines, the author explores autoethnographic practice as critical feminist and decolonial work and the power it holds for not only imagining a wise, ethical and loving world but for making such a kind place possible. Through a performative journey of the heart, we travel with the author as she unearths the power of words of writing and not writing, evoking in particular the work of Hélène Cixous and Virginia Woolf. This reflective, passionate and pioneering volume will be of interest and value to all those interested in autoethnography and the ways in which it can be applied as critical, ethical and political work in the social sciences.

The Seven Deadly Virtues and Other Lively Essays Lynn Z. Bloom, 2008 This volume contains eye-opening essays from a pioneering voice in creative nonfiction and composition studies. Inspirational educator and writer Bloom brings to fore the trials and triumphs she has experienced in coming of age as a scholar, teacher, wife, mother, grandmother and most especially a writer. A pioneer in composition studies and a chronic nonconformist, Bloom is a lifelong advocate of opportunity, authenticity and expression. Taking a stance in favor of bold creativity in living teaching and the act of writing that ties both together, she warns against the snares and sneers of the seven deadly virtues: duty, rationality, conformity, efficiency, order, economy and punctuality that so often subvert the mission of education and the potential of expressive communication. Ranging from the comic to the confessional, Bloom's memoir interweaves the pleasures and problems of a forbidden marriage and complex family, the joys of cooking and travel, the struggles to become a professor in an era that rejected women faculty and the risks of heeding the siren call of creative
