Common Goods Political Transdisciplinary Theological:

Common Goods Melanie Johnson-DeBaufre, Catherine Keller, Elias Ortega-Aponte, 2015 In the face of globalized ecological and economic crisis what role does political theology play in formulating the shared good and the sharing of goods This remarkable collection of essays by philosophers theologians and religion scholars together rethinks the common experimentally assembling a transdisciplinary political theology of the earth Reset the Heart Dr. Mai-Anh Le Tran, 2017-05-02 When the BlackLivesMatter protest movement burst into dynamic action following the shooting death of young Michael Brown in the fall of 2014 in Ferguson MO a good number of clergy and lay leaders in greater St Louis sprang to action and learned anew what it took to put some feet to their prayers However as improvisational efforts continued to rally and organize churches toward the enduring work of confronting the insidious violence of systemic social injustices in their own backyard these religious leaders ran head on into a familiar yet perplexing wall the incapacity and unwillingness of their faith communities to respond In many cases the resistance was and still is fierce eerily reminiscent of the stand offs that divided religious communities and leadership in the 1960s Civil Rights era If the Church s teaching learning and practice of faith is purportedly transformative then where was is that faith when it was is needed most If good religious formation had been happening or had it then why the enduring signs of indifference paralysis apathy exasperation resistance symptoms of anesthetized moral consciousness and debilitated hope in the face of pervasive social cultural violence The answer may come in a searing indictment that in an emerging cultural religious era in which religious identity expression and experience are increasingly pluralistic yet also politicized polarizing and racialized Christian faith communities even those of progressive theological persuasions are still held under dominant cultural captivity and fashioned by colonizing teaching strategies of disimagination such that the stories theologies and rituals practices of the faith have effectively become obstacles that anesthetize moral agency and debilitate courageous action for hope and change This book addresses the above practical concerns with three paradigmatic questions 1 What does it mean to educate for faith in a world marked by violence 2 How are Christian faith communities complicit in the teaching and learning of violence 3 What renewed practices of faith and educational leadership yield potential for the unlearning and unmaking of violence An organizing thesis drives the inquiry Thinking and teaching for violence resisting action as Christians requires an on purpose setting of our hearts in a world that violates and harms with impunity Against violent disimagination and its conscience numbing instruments Christian religious communities are being challenged to regenerate radical forms of prophetic protested faith the skills and instincts of which must be honed deliberately This occurs through intentional and strategic forms of public consciousness raising for the sake of participation and action an action that moves toward and is fueled by critical insurrectional resurrectional hope

Sexual Disorientations Kent L. Brintnall, Joseph A. Marchal, Stephen D. Moore, 2017-11-07 Sexual Disorientations brings some of the most recent and significant works of queer theory into conversation with the overlapping fields of biblical theological and religious studies to explore the deep theological resonances of questions about the social and cultural construction of time memory and futurity Apocalyptic eschatological and apophatic languages frameworks and orientations pervade both queer theorizing and theologizing about time affect history and desire The volume fosters a more explicit engagement between theories of queer temporality and affectivity and religious texts and discourses

Liberating People, Planet, and Religion Joerg Rieger, Terra Rowe, 2024-05-29 There is growing consensus that life on the planet is in peril if climate change continues at its current pace At stake is not only the future of many species but of humanity itself As an increasing number of ecological economists have emphasized these problems will only be adequately addressed by re-examining economic systems from an ecological perspective fundamentally calling into question assumptions of unlimited growth and the maximization of shareholder profit foundational to neoliberal capitalism Religion and ecology scholars have also increasingly emphasized the ways climate change challenges assumed divides between nature and culture religion and labor economy and ecology and calls for critical and constructive engagement with the religion economy and ecology nexus Often though religious engagements with economy and ecology have placed emphasis on individual morality action and agency at the level of consumption patterns or have suggested mere modifications within existing economic paradigms Contributors to this volume call into question the adequacy of this approach in light of the urgency of climate change which is always ever entwined with ongoing patterns of exploitation oppression and colonialism in current economic systems Rather than tweaking a system of exploitation for instance by emphasizing individual consumption or care for human and non human victims these authors articulate important opportunities for religious engagement activism resistance and solidarity around issues of production and labor Recalling that Marx linked agencies and labor of people as well as the other than human world these authors aim to articulate a sense in which liberation of people and the planet are intertwined and can be accomplished only through collaboration for their common good The basic intuition driving this volume is that while Christianity has by and large become the handmaiden of exploitative capitalism and empire it might also reclaim latent theologies and religious practices that call into question the fundamental valuation of labor without recognition or rest of extractive exploitation and a winner take all praxis In the process Christianity might reclaim and reinvest in tenuous historical materializations of transformed ecological and economic relationships while economics might be re-informed by a valuation of the shared oikos as well as a just accounting of and remuneration for labor Together they might serve the aim of the flourishing of all people and the planet

Assembling Futures Jennifer Quigley, Catherine Keller, 2024-08-20 Transdisciplinary insights at the intersection of religion democracy ecology and economy What is the relationship of religion to economy ecology and democracy In our fraught moment what critical questions of religion may help to assemble democratic processes ecosystems and economic structures differently What possible futures might emerge from transdisciplinary work across these traditionally siloed scholarly areas of interest The essays in Assembling Futures reflect scholarly conversations among historians political scientists theologians biblical studies scholars and scholars of religion that transgress disciplinary boundaries to consider urgent matters expressive of the values practices and questions that shape human existence Each essay recognizes urgent imbrications of the global economy multinational politics and the materiality of ecological entanglements in assembling still possible futures for the earth Precisely in their diversity of disciplinary starting points and ethical styles the essays that follow enact their intersectional forcefield even more vibrantly

Common Goods Catherine Keller, Elias Ortega-Aponte, 2015-12-01 In the face of globalized ecological and economic crises how do religion the postsecular and political theology reconfigure political theory and practice As the planet warms and the chasm widens between the 1 percent and the global 99 what thinking may yet energize new alliances between religious and irreligious constituencies This book brings together political theorists philosophers theologians and scholars of religion to open discursive and material spaces in which to shape a vibrant planetary commons Attentive to the universalizing tendencies of the common the contributors seek to reappropriate the term in response to the corporate logic that asserts itself as a universal solvent In the resulting conversation the common returns as an interlinked manifold under the ethos of its multitudes and the ecology of its multiplicity Beginning from what William Connolly calls the palpable fragility of things Common Goods assembles a transdisciplinary political theology of the Earth With a nuance missing from both atheist and orthodox religious approaches the contributors engage in a multivocal conversation about sovereignty capital ecology and civil society The result is an unprecedented thematic assemblage of cosmopolitics and religious diversity of utopian space and the time of insurrection of Christian socialism radical democracy and disability theory of quantum entanglement and planetarity of theology fleshly and political Life Under the Baobab Tree Kenneth N. Ngwa, Aliou Cissé Niang, Arthur Pressley, 2023-09-05 Life Under the Baobab Tree Africana Studies and Religion in a Transitional Age is a compendium of innovating essays meticulously written by early and later diaspora people of African descent Their speech arises from the depth of their experiences under the Baobab tree and offers to the world voices of resilience newness resurrection hope and life Resolutely journeying on the trails of their ancestors they speak about setbacks and forward looking movements of liberation social transformation and community formation The volume is a carefully woven conversation of intellectual substance and structure across time space and spirituality that is quintessentially Africana in its centering of methodological theoretical epistemological and hermeneutical complexity that assumes nonlinear and dialogical approaches to developing liberating epistemologies in the face of imperialism colonialism racism and religious intolerance A critical part of this conversation is a reconceptualization and reconfiguration of the concept of religion in its colonial and imperial forms Life Under the Baobab Tree examines how Africana peoples understand their corporate experiences of the divine not as religion apart from its intimate connections to social realities of communal health economics culture politics environment violence war and dynamic community belonging To that end Afro Pessimistic formulations of life placed in dialogic relation Afro

Optimism Both realities constitute life under the Baobab tree and represent the sturdiness and variation that anchors the deep ruptures that have affected Africana life and the creative responses The metaphor and substance of the tree resists reductionist essentialist and assured conclusions about the nature of diasporic lived experiences both within the continent of Africa and in the African Diaspora

Religion, Emotion, Sensation Karen Bray, Stephen D. Moore, 2019-12-03 Religion Emotion Sensation asks what affect theory has to say about God or gods religion or religions scriptures theologies and liturgies Contributors explore the crossings and crisscrossings between affect theory and theology and the study of religion more broadly as well as the political and social import of such work Bringing together affect theorists theologians biblical scholars and scholars of religion this volume enacts creative transdisciplinary interventions in the study of affect and religion through exploring such topics as biblical literature Christology animism Rastafarianism the women s Mosque Movement the unending Korean War the Sewol ferry disaster trans and gender queer identities YA fiction queer historiography the prison industrial complex debt and neoliberalism and death and poetry Contributors Mathew Arthur Amy Hollywood Wonhee Anne Joh Dong Sung Kim A Paige Rawson Erin Runions Donovan O Schaefer Gregory J Seigworth Max Thornton Alexis G Waller

Therapeutic and Prophetic Narratives in Worship Jean-Daniel Plüss, 1988 Personal religious narratives either as therapeutic testimonies or as prophetic visions have played an essential role in shaping the liturgy of the early Pentecostal movement The present publication takes as its aim to study these oral narratives in the light of religious literary and social theories in order to establish what relevance they have with regard to the secularization of Christianity The theses put forward are thought to be a contribution to narrative theory and practice To theory formation because they advocate a bilingualism in which religious and secular speech become part of the same metaphor To religious practice because they encourage communication in which the claims of the individual society and the Holy can be understood and answered responsibly

Perspectives on Science and Christian Faith, 2002 History of Science and Technology in Education and Training in Europe Claude Debru, 1999 Euroscientia Conferences formerly The European Science and Technology Forum were created in 1994 by the European Commission in order to stimulate reflection and debate on science and technology on a European scale To this aim they provide a framework for conferences and studies on subjects related to historical cultural ethical social but also economic and political aspects of science and technology The originality of the Euroscientia Conferences when compared with other initiatives in this field is to address the questions dealt with specifically within their European dimension attention is concentrated on the particularity of the situation in the field concerned in Europe in comparison with other parts of the world the differences between European countries and regions the aspects related to the process of building Europe the needs and possibilities of collaboration at European level etc Over the years the European Union has developed its own research policy Conceived in order to both supplement and support national research efforts this policy is implemented through large collaborative research programmes co ordinated within the so called pluriannual

Research and Technological Development Framework Programmes The basic principles of these programmes are stimulating the creation of collaborative networks across Europe supporting joint research projects associating universities enterprises and research centres from different European countries and promoting the mobility of researchers and exchanges The main characteristic of the Fifth Framework Programme 1998 2002 is to focus the European research effort on a limited number of subject matters relating to the large social and economic needs issues and challenges which the European Union is currently facing employment and industrial competitiveness problems related to public health environment transport and in general the quality of life of European citizens Choice ,1999 Directory of Published Proceedings ,1992 The

Marty,Jonathan Moore,2000-03-10 The future of America in many ways depends upon an understanding of the proper role of religion in our shared life as a republic Discussions and debates on the topic have too often generated noise platitudes stereotypes name calling and the distortion of vitally important issues instead of constructive conversation among citizens until now Of all the voices commenting about American religion today none is more credible or better known than that of historian Martin E Marty A respected scholar author editor and media commentator he has perhaps better than anyone else in the field a deep grasp on the complex issues surrounding public religion Recovering Common Goods Patrick Riordan,2017 Writings that explore current affairs from the vision put forward by Catholic Social Teaching Political Theology on Edge Clayton Crockett,Catherine Keller,2021-12-07 In Political Theology on Edge the discourse of political theology is seen as situated on an edge that is on the edge of a world that is grappling with global warming a brutal form of neoliberal capitalism protests against racism and police brutality and the COVID 19 pandemic This edge is also a form of eschatology that forces us to imagine new ways of being religious and political in our cohabitation of a fragile and shared planet Each of the essays in this volume attends to how climate change and our ecological crises intersect and interact with more traditional themes of political theology While the tradition of political theology is often associated with philosophical responses to the work of Carl Schmitt and the critical attempts to disengage religion from his rightwing politics the contributors to this volume are informed by Schmitt but not limited to his perspectives They engage and transform political theology from the standpoint of climate change the politics of race and non Christian political theologies including Islam and Sikhism Important themes include the Anthropocene ecology capitalism sovereignty Black Lives Matter affect theory continental philosophy destruction and suicide This book features world renowned scholars and emerging voices that together open up the tradition of political theology to new ideas and new ways of thinking Contributors Gil Anidjar Balbinder Singh Bhogal J Kameron Carter William E Connolly Kelly Brown Douglas

lle Vahanian Larry L Welborn Law and Religion in Africa Pieter Coertzen, M Christiaan Green, Len Hansen, 2015-05-01
In our time the study of law and religion is emerging as a wide ranging and vital academic discipline with increasingly urgent implications for society at large Lying at the intersection of a variety of other disciplines law theology religious studies political science sociology and anthropology to name only the most obvious the field of law and religion is generating a burgeoning volume of interdisciplinary and trans disciplinary research and study The current volume is proof of this The discussion of the relationship between law and religion as seen from a variety of perspectives in Africa underscores the critical importance of the issues involved in the everyday life of all citizens It is accordingly vital for governments to take note of the scholarly results that are produced We hope that this volume will contribute to this aim
