Uncharted Territory Chris Dalla Riva, 2025-11-13 This insightful and surprising history based on data and numbers will reframe everything you thought you knew about popular music over the last 6 decades

Producing Children Peter C. Kunze, Victoria Ford Smith, 2025-04-15 Producing Children imagines the possibility indeed the inevitability of a creative relation between children as producers and consumers by revising the long established hierarchical relation between adults and children. The chapters in this collection reveal that studying child produced culture complicates our received understandings of children's culture as culture by adults for children about children. They also underscore children's literature as a cultural phenomenon that moves across and beyond genres forms and media. As a whole this collection reveals that attention to child produced culture invites dialogue and collaboration across fields and disciplines invested in the critical understanding of children as embodied beings and childhood as both a stage of development and discursive construct with social political economic and cultural dimensions and influence. With the ongoing vibrancy of childhood studies as a multidisciplinary area of inquiry studies of child produced culture provide scholars with an exciting opportunity to complicate enrich and expand theorization of childhood creativity

You Must Become an Algorithmic Problem José Marichal, 2025-09-16 In the age of AI where personal data fuels corporate profits and state surveillance what are the implications for democracy This incisive book explores the unspoken agreement we have with tech companies In exchange for reducing the anxiety of an increasingly complex online world we submit to algorithmic classification and predictability This reduces incentives for us to become algorithmic problems with dire consequences for liberal democracy He calls for a movement to demand that algorithms promote play creativity and potentiality rather than conformity This is a must read for anyone navigating the intersection of technology politics and identity in an increasingly data driven world

Filterworld Kyle Chayka, 2024-01-16 A MOST ANTICIPATED BOOK From New Yorker staff writer and author of The Longing for Less Kyle Chayka comes a timely history and investigation of a world ruled by algorithms which determine the shape of culture itself Filterworld is about how algorithms changed culture Chayka asks what is taste What is a sense of aesthetics And what happens to it when it collides with the homogenizing digital reality in which we now live Ezra Klein From trendy restaurants to city grids to TikTok and Netflix feeds the world round algorithmic recommendations dictate our experiences and choices The algorithm is present in the familiar neon signs and exposed brick of Internet cafes be it in Nairobi or Portland and the skeletal modern furniture of Airbnbs in cities big and small Over the last decade this network of mathematically determined decisions has taken over almost unnoticed informing the songs we listen to the friends with whom we stay in touch as we've grown increasingly accustomed to our insipid new normal This ever tightening web woven by algorithms is called Filterworld

Kyle Chayka shows us how online and offline spaces alike have been engineered for seamless consumption becoming a source of pervasive anxiety in the process Users of technology have been forced to contend with data driven equations that try to anticipate their desires and often get them wrong What results is a state of docility that allows tech companies to curtail human experiences human lives for profit But to have our tastes behaviors and emotions governed by computers while convenient does nothing short of call the very notion of free will into question In Filterworld Chayka traces this creeping machine guided curation as it infiltrates the furthest reaches of our digital physical and psychological spaces With algorithms increasingly influencing not just what culture we consume but what culture is produced urgent questions arise What happens when shareability supersedes messiness innovation and creativity the qualities that make us human What does it mean to make a choice when the options have been so carefully arranged for us Is personal freedom possible on the Internet To the
