Greening Higher Education in Europe

Magdalena Popowska, 2024-08-16 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the advances that have taken place in European higher education institutions HEIs over the last 20 years in response to the challenges of sustainable development

In recent years there has been a visible shift toward sustainable development and universities have been addressing their accountability to the public through corporate social responsibility Greening Higher Education in Europe explores these recent developments beginning with an introduction to sustainable development and its complexity followed by a discussion of the regulatory and organizational context of higher education in Europe This book goes on to examine the key pillars of sustainable development in HEIs including education research and campus development demonstrating best practices from a range of European universities including the University of Groningen The Netherlands Lund University Sweden Aalto

University Finland and The University of Edinburgh UK among others It also explores the role of HEIs in educating future leaders in sustainable development and presents a framework for understanding the values and decision making processes of

HEI leaders It concludes by highlighting the need for a new paradigm in HEIs that promotes innovation quality equity and respect for the environment This book will be useful for scholars and academic professionals from a wide variety of disciplines including sustainability especially in its educational research and practical applied dimensions It will also be a useful resource for postgraduate students in management and engineering

EU Induced Institutional Change in Post-Soviet Space Ryhor Nizhnikau, 2018-07-24 This book analyses the role of the European Union in the process of institutional change in its Eastern neighbourhood and explains why EU policies arrive at contradictory outcomes at the sectoral level Combining EU studies approaches with insights from the fields of new institutionalism international development studies and transnationalisation it explains how the EU policies contribute to rule persistence or lead to institutional change. Highlighting the importance of investigating how the policies of external intervention interact with domestic institutions the book also provides a coherent presentation of the political and economic problems of Ukraine and Moldova and a comparative analysis in key areas at critical junctures of their development. This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of European Union politics and more broadly to International Relations post Soviet and Russian studies.

The Economics of Change in East and Central Europe Peter J. Buckley, Pervez N. Ghauri, 1994 The developments in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union are providing a potentially huge new market for Western businesses. This book presents analytical insights into the workings of international business within this market by combining empirical and conceptual contributions.

NGOs in China and Europe Yuwen Li, 2016-05-06 This volume presents a comparison of the experiences of NGOs in China and Europe. The chapters on China contain the most comprehensive and up to date analysis of various types of NGOs currently active in the country. The contributions on foreign NGOs in China non governmental think tanks, public interest legal organizations, labour related NGOs and charity organizations are the first in English to discuss successful experiences as well as the difficulties they face in the post Mao era. The European studies draw examples from countries where the experiences of NGOs are at various stages of development. The section on NGOs in Central and Eastern Europe examines the rapid expansion of civil society and their pivotal role in promoting political change and building democracy in a transitional society as well as the challenges they confront in advancing a strong civil society. Those chapters on NGOs experiences in Western European countries especially in the Netherlands and the UK provide insightful information and examination of the most contentious issues concerning NGOs accountability, governance and relationship with the government.

Organizational Perspectives on Environmental Migration Kerstin Rosenow-Williams, François Gemenne, 2015-10-16 Over the past decade international organizations IOs and non governmental organizations NGOs have increasingly focused their efforts on the plight of environmental migrants in both industrialized and developing countries. However to date very few studies have analysed the influence and rhetoric of advocacy groups in the debates on environmental migration. Organizational Perspectives on Environmental Migration fills this lacuna by drawing together and examining the related themes of climate change and environmental degradation, migration and organizational studies to provide a fresh perspective on their increasing relevance. In order to assess the role of IOs and NGOs in the environmental migration discourse and to understand their interaction and their ways of addressing the topic the book contains a wide range of contributions covering the perspectives of organizational sociologists, political scientists, anthropologists, geographers, lawyers and practitioners. The chapters are organized thematically around the perspectives of key actors in the area of environmental migration including IOs, courts and advocacy groups. The geographically diverse and interdisciplinary range of contributions makes this volume an essential foundational text for organizational responses to environmental migration This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars of migration studies international relations organizational sociology refugee law and policy and development studies European War Pamphlets ,1916

Organization, Change and Democracy Ralf Dahrendorf,1973 History of the Intellectual Development of Europe
John William Draper,1876 The Oxford Handbook of International Climate Change Law Cinnamon P. Carlarne,Kevin R. Gray,Richard Tarasofsky,2016-03-24 Climate change presents one of the greatest challenges of our time and has become one of the defining issues of the twenty first century The radical changes which both developed and developing countries will need to make in economic and in legal terms to respond to climate change are unprecedented International law including treaty regimes institutions and customary international law needs to address the myriad challenges and consequences of climate change including variations in the weather patterns sea level rise and the resulting migration of peoples The Oxford Handbook of International Climate Change Law provides an unprecedented and authoritative overview of all aspects of international climate change law as it currently stands with guidance for how it should develop in the future Over forty leading scholars and practitioners set out a comprehensive understanding of the legal issues that surround this vitally important but still emerging area of international law This book addresses the major legal dimensions of the problems caused by climate change not only in the content and nature of the international legal frameworks which need implementation at the national level but also the development of carbon trading systems as a means of reducing the costs of meeting emission reduction targets After an introduction to the field the Handbook assesses the relevant institutions the key applicable principles of international law the international mitigation regime and its consequences and climate change litigation before providing perspectives focused upon specific countries or regions The Handbook will be an invaluable resource for scholars students and practitioners of international climate change law It provides readers with diverse perspectives bringing together interpretations from different disciplines countries and cultures
