Constructing Meaning Through Writing:

Visualizing Knowledge and Creating Meaning in Ancient Writing Systems Shai Gordin, 2013-12-31 Ancient writing systems employ logographic and logophonic principles playing on the relationship between writing script and scribal learning. The workshop proceedings published in this volume explore the way these relationships encode knowledge and meaning reflected in the social historical and cultural mentality of the early peoples of East Asia, China and Japan, Anatolia, the Aegean, Egypt, and Mesoamerica. The meeting was organized in the FU Berlin on the fall of 2010 by the editor and Dr. Renata Landgrafova, now at Charles University Prague, in the frame of the DFG research training group 1458 Notational Iconicity Schriftbildlichkeit headed by Prof. Eva Cancik Kirschbaum and Prof. Sybille Kramer. The premise of our meeting was that script and the organization of texts can reveal how knowledge is transformed and transmitted among different social groups across time and space and eventually standardized as written tradition. Its multidisciplinary approach follows recent trends in the attempt to arouse debate between scholars of disparate systems of writing, be it Cuneiform, Hieroglyphic, or Linear, in nature and to discuss their elements independent of origin or cultural context. A broad perspective on ancient writing and its visual elements was established with the contributions delving into the aspects of generating knowledge and meaning. J. Janak, M. Weeden categorizing knowledge, E. Boot, T. W. Kwan, H. Tomas diffusion and transformation of knowledge, Sh. Gordin, R. Landgrafova, and rationalizing knowledge, E. Birk. Creating Meaning Through Literature and the Arts

Creating a Transnational Space in the First Year Writing Classroom W.

Ordeman, 2021-05-04 During the first twenty years of the new millennium, many scholars turned their attention to translingualism, an idea that focuses on the merging of language in distinct social and spatial contexts to serve unique, mutually constitutive and temporal purposes. This volume joins the more recent shift in pedagogical studies towards an altogether distinct phenomenon, transnationalism. By developing a framework for transnational pedagogical practice, this volume demonstrates the exclusive opportunities afforded to freshmen writers who write in transnational spaces that act as points of fusion for several cultural, lingual, and national identities. With reference to recent works on translingualism and transnationalism, this volume is an attempt to conceptualize effective writing pedagogy in freshman writing courses which are becoming more and more transnational. It also provides educators and first-year writing administrators with practical pedagogical tools to help them use their transnational spaces as a means of achieving their desired learning outcomes as well.

as teaching students threshold concepts of composition studies This volume will be particularly useful for first year writing faculty at colleges and universities as well as writing program administrators to create a more effective curriculum that addresses these needs in classroom settings All scholars with a doctorate in Rhetoric and Composition English as a Second Language Translation Studies to name a few will also find this a valuable resource

Successful Writing Strategies for National Board Certification Bobbie Faulkner, 2021-10-13 Successful Writing Strategies for National Board Certification leads National Board candidates through various strategies to help them write in the National Board Style How a candidate writes about their teaching practice greatly impacts the success of their efforts to become a Board Certified Teacher Components the candidates submit depend on writing that is clear consistent and convincing All the Scoring Rubrics are built upon those elements This book gives many writing strategies tips and examples to lead candidates toward the goal of submitting work that meets the National Board Standards for accomplishment This revision brings it up to date with the current Version 3.0 National Board requirements

The SAGE Handbook of Writing Development Roger Beard, Debra Myhill, Jeni Riley, Martin Nystrand, 2009-07-09 Writing development is currently the focus of substantial international debate because it is the aspect of literacy education that has been least responsive to central government and state reforms Teaching approaches in writing have been slower to change than those in teaching reading and pupil attainment in writing has increased at a much more modest rate than pupil attainment in reading This handbook critically examines research and theoretical issues that impact on writing development from the early years through to adulthood It provides those researching or teaching literacy with one of the most academically authoritative and comprehensive works in the field With expert contributors from across the world the book represents a detailed and valuable overview of a complex area of study
