Constructing Singapore Michael D. Barr, Zlatko Skrbis, 2008 Constructing Singapore studies Singaporean nation building by focusing on two processes elite formation and elite selection It gives primary attention to the role that ethno racial ascription plays in these processes but also considers the input of personal connections personal power class and gender It is a study of the progress of Singapore's state sponsored nation building project to its current state whereby a Singaporean version of Chinese ethno nationalism has overwhelmed the discourse on national and Singaporean identity Based upon archival research and formal interviews this study unpacks the culture of elite governance in Lee Hsien Loong's Singapore today

Diplomatic Strategies of Nations in the Global South Jacqueline Braveboy-Wagner, 2016-10-19 At a time of change in the international system this book examines how non traditional leading nations from the Global South have fared to date and what the chances are of their rise to continue In the second decade of the twenty first century the enthusiasm of observers of the international scene about the rise of the rest is waning as many countries that were expected to lead the evolving multipolar order are experiencing economic contraction and governance problems In order to predict further developments the contributors to this volume focus on the types and sources of the diplomatic strategies that must be executed by rising states if they are to preserve domestic advances as well as gain influence regionally and internationally Through a comprehensive examination of case studies from Latin America Africa Asia and the Middle East they show that while there are commonalities among these rising states unique domestic conditions values and traditions impact and predict diplomatic strategizing and the ability for sustained projection on the international scene

Routledge Handbook of Asian Regionalism Mark Beeson, Richard Stubbs, 2012-03-15 The Routledge Handbook of Asian Regionalism is a definitive introduction to and analysis of the development of regionalism in Asia including coverage of East Asia Southeast Asia and South Asia The contributors engage in a comprehensive exploration of what is arguably the most dynamic and important region in the world Significantly this volume addresses the multiple manifestations of regionalism in Asia and is consequently organised thematically under the headings of conceptualizing the region economic issues political issues strategic issues regional organizations As such the Handbook presents some of the key elements of the competing interpretations of this important and highly contested topic giving the reader a chance to evaluate not just where Asian regionalism is going but also how the scholarship on Asian regionalism is analysing these trends and events This book will be an indispensable resource for students and scholars of Asian politics international relations and regionalism
