Dei Manual Transmission:

The Art of Executing Well Nicholas Terpstra, 2008-10-01 In Renaissance Italy a good execution was both public and peaceful at least in the eyes of authorities In a feature unique to Italy the people who prepared a condemned man or woman spiritually and psychologically for execution were not priests or friars but laymen This volume includes some of the songs stories poems and images that they used together with first person accounts and ballads describing particular executions Leading scholars expand on these accounts explaining aspects of the theater psychology and politics of execution The main text is a manual translated in English for the first time on how to comfort a man in his last hours before beheading or hanging It became an influential text used across Renaissance Italy A second lengthy piece gives an eyewitness account of the final hours of two patrician Florentines executed for conspiracy against the Medici in 1512 Shorter pieces include poems written by prisoners on the eve of their execution songs sung by the condemned and their comforters and popular broadsheets reporting on particular executions It is richly illustrated with the small panel paintings that were thrust into prisoners faces to distract them as they made the public journey to the gallows Six interdisciplinary essays explain the contexts and meanings of these writings and of execution rituals generally They explore the relation of execution rituals to late medieval street theater the use of art to comfort the condemned the literature that issued from prisons by the hands of condemned prisoners the theological issues around public executions in the Renaissance the psychological dimensions of the comforting process and some of the social political and historical dimensions of executions and comforting in Renaissance Italy

A Manual on the Rudiments of Tuning and Registration: Introduction and human singing voice, 1992 This manual is designed to provide teachers and students of music with a ready reference on the elementary aspects of Classical well tempered tuning and voice registrations of singers and instruments It grew out of a collaborative project launched by American statesman and economist Lyndon H LaRouche Jr with the intermediate aim of reestablishing a working grasp of the principles Classical polyphonic composition as exemplified in the works of J S Bach Mozart Beethoven Schubert and Brahms and with the ultimate aim of applying those principles to spark a new Classical renaissance which can lift mankind out of the cultural rubble of twentieth century Romanticism and Modernism Book I is primarily concerned with introducing the student to the rudiments of Classical musical science and demonstrates the primacy of the human bel canto singing voice and its biologically determined registration for all rigorously creative musical composition As LaRouche states in the foreword The vocalization of Classical poetry according to elementary bel canto principles of vocalization is song The participation of singers representing two or more of the biologically determined species of singing voices soprano tenor etc is the essence of Classical well tempered polyphony Book II in preparation will deal with the application of vocal polyphonic principles to musical instruments and will provide a series of technical appendices
