Climate Models Leonard Druyan, 2012-03-02 Climate Models offers a sampling of cutting edge research contributed by an international roster of scientists. The studies strive to improve our understanding of the physical environment for life on this planet. Each of the 14 essays presents a description of recent advances in methodologies for computer based simulation of environmental variability. Subjects range from planetary scale phenomena to regional ecology from impacts of air pollution to the factors influencing floods and heat waves. The discerning reader will be rewarded with new insights concerning modern techniques for the investigation of the natural world. Glamour, 1992 Managers' Summary, 2000 The Hidden Costs of Coffee Production in the Eastern African Value Chains Adong, A.; Kornher, L.; Chichaibelu, B.B.; Arslan, A., 2024-11-08 There is growing recognition that significant costs associated with food systems remain unaccounted for in market prices. Coffee is the second most traded commodity in the world and the most traded agricultural commodity. More than 30 million smallholder households rely directly on coffee income. This background paper includes a study that attempts to quantify the environmental and social externalities of coffee value chains in three countries in Eastern Africa: Ethiopia, Uganda, and the United Republic of Tanzania. Using a refined and simplified methodology to quantify social and environmental externalities associated with climate, water, child labour, gender inequality, and the living income gap, the paper applies the marginal damage cost approach to monetize the hidden costs. Both social and environmental externalities contribute significantly to the hidden costs of Eastern African coffee value chains, with Robusta coffee boasting considerably higher social hidden costs from the living income gap than Arabica due to its lower farm gate prices and profit margins. Hidden costs associated with the living income gap constitute the largest share, particularly in Ethiopia. Large variations in hidden costs in different production systems and regions are identified. The paper provides four important recommendations for policymakers in producing and importing countries. Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents, 1982

Residue Evaluation of Certain Veterinary Drugs Joint FAO/WHO Expert Committee on Food Additives. Meeting, 2014. This document contains monographs on residue evaluations of certain veterinary drugs prepared at the seventy eighth meeting of the Joint FAO/WHO Expert Committee on Food Additives (JECFA) which was held in Geneva, Switzerland from 5 to 14 November 2013. Four substances were evaluated for the first time: emamectin benzoate, gentian violet, lasalocid sodium, and zilpaterol hydrochloride. Four additional substances were re-evaluated: derquantel, ivermectin, monensin, and recombinant bovine somatotrophins. The monographs provide information on chemical identity and properties of the compounds, pharmacokinetics, and metabolism, residue depletion studies, and analytical methods validated and used for the detection and quantification of the compounds. In addition, this document provides an overview of the pilot project to evaluate alternative approaches to estimate daily intakes of residues of veterinary drugs in foods and provides guidance on the extrapolation of MRLs to minor species and for the establishment of MRLs in honey. This publication and other documents produced by JECFA contain information that is useful to all those who work with or are involved with recommending or controlling maximum residue limits for veterinary drugs in foods of animal origin Manager's Summary--ecological Studies of the Pryor Mountain Wild Horse Range, 1992-1997 ,1997 Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States.
