Sparsity-Based Multipath Exploitation for Through-the-Wall Radar Imaging Michael Leigsnering,2018-02-16 This thesis reports on sparsity based multipath exploitation methods for through the wall radar imaging Multipath creates ambiguities in the measurements provoking unwanted ghost targets in the image This book describes sparse reconstruction methods that are not only suppressing the ghost targets but using multipath to one's advantage With adopting the compressive sensing principle fewer measurements are required for image reconstruction as compared to conventional techniques The book describes the development of a comprehensive signal model and some associated reconstruction methods that can deal with many relevant scenarios such as clutter from building structures secondary reflections from interior walls as well as stationary and moving targets in urban radar imaging The described methods are evaluated here using simulated as well as measured data from semi controlled laboratory experiments assurance process incorporating the people policies processes and technologies currently available in the field. The author ties up the various threads that currently compose cyber M S into a coherent view of what is measurable, simulative and usable in order to evaluate systems for assured operation. An Introduction to Cyber Modeling and Simulation provides the reader with examples of tools and technologies currently available for performing cyber modeling and simulation. It examines how decision making processes may benefit from M S in cyber defense. It also examines example emulators, simulators and their potential combination. The book also takes a look at corresponding verification and validation (V V) processes which provide the operational community with confidence in knowing that cyber models represent the real world. This book explores the role of cyber M S in decision making. Provides a method for contextualizing and understanding cyber risk. Shows how concepts such as the Risk Management Framework (RMF) leverage multiple processes and policies into a coherent whole.
