that are presented were written in order to help you grow your child. The sections include Intrapersonal Skills, Interpersonal Skills, Adaptability, Stress Management, and General Mood. Each section is further divided into sub skills that address such things as Problem Solving, Happiness, Flexibility, and other critical emotional and social competencies. We encourage you to use these activities throughout the deployment process and beyond. Sample Exercises from Emotional Intelligence Activities for Kids, My Special Gifts and Talents. Everyone has something they do well. It may be in a sport or playing a musical instrument or even a particular subject like math. A person can even be good at making friends. Whatever a person does well can be a gift or talent. See if you can recognize your own gifts and talents. Piecing a Quilt. Many emotions make up the person you are. It is important to be able to identify those emotions and know how to deal with them. Your emotions are like a patchwork quilt. Each of your emotions is pieced together to make up the whole you. Inside the patches on the quilt below, draw a face showing different emotions you have felt. Make No Bones About It. Do your friends sometimes do or say things that make you feel uncomfortable? Maybe they say unkind things to other classmates. Or maybe they take the seat you were saving for someone and won't move when you ask them. Do you feel like you should speak up about it but are afraid? Here are some steps to take to help you speak up. A Skeleton of My Former Self. Independence is when you are able to take care of yourself. You are able to plan and make important decisions for yourself and you can make those decisions without falling apart or depending on others to bail you out emotionally. You are courteous, honest, and respectful of yourself and others. You are willing to take responsibility for your feelings, thoughts, and actions. You rely on others for help when necessary but do not cling to other people.

The Emotional Intelligence Workbook Jill Dann, Derek Dann, 2012-09-28. Do you want to be able to persuade, influence, or empathize with people in any situation? Do you want to be able to click with people instantly? Do you want people to trust you? This new Teach Yourself Workbook doesn't just tell you what emotional intelligence is. It accompanies you every step of the way with diagnostic tools, goal setting charts, practical exercises, and many more features ideal for people who want a more active style of learning. The book starts by helping you identify the behaviours associated with emotional intelligence and whether you are currently doing them. It then helps you set specific goals to improve on. As you progress through the book, you will be able to keep checking your progress against these goals. Specially created exercises using the tools of NLP, hypnotherapy, and cognitive psychology will help you to boost your emotional intelligence so that you can reach your potential in any situation.
