are soothed to sleep by the sound of their mother or father's voice. The bedtime story is that the inspiration for the dreams that your child may need in the dark. It's also the food for the child's conscious mind as they are going about their day. Children also are greatly influenced when it involves personality traits. Through stories our youngsters learn many of the values and character traits that they're going to hold on to and hopefully demonstrate later in life as they get older. Kids learn who they need to emulate, who they need to be and the way they ought to treat others. With fantasy stories there's one extra benefit: it works out their mind and imagination and provides the gift of what might be. It is remarkable how things that never were and never are going to be can serve us in life. Our fantasy worlds give us gifts just like the concept of inclusion of all species and other people even those from space. Fantasy gives human voices and words to animals and machines even robots. Fantasy helps us learn to empathize with people and creatures that are entirely different from us. It teaches us to think before we react to something unfamiliar and the way those that aren't like us might feel from our words. They're feeding their child's imagination what's so important that is that the imagination is where our greatest and most vital creations, inventions and concepts come from. Those creations and inventions become subsequent generation's technology. The ideas grow bigger and opened up to become movements. Sometimes those ideas become stories of their own for the subsequent generation of readers and dreamers.
