through social activism cannot be understood without returning to the deeply personal context of their family history of growing up Red Diaper babies in 1950s New York City using folk music as self expression as adolescents in the 1960s and of making blintzes for their own family through the 1970s and 1980s As the children of immigrants and first generation Jews Dick and Mickey crafted their own religious identity as secular Jews created a critical space for American progressive activism through SDS and ultimately found themselves raising an American family
