

1. Proteins

a. What is a protein?

- A protein is made up of genes and has DNA in it. Proteins are made up of amino acids, which are told by the DNA how to look/feel, and based on how the amino acid is shaped, the protein will be a certain way.

b. List three examples of proteins found in your body.

- Enzymes, insulin, and keratin.

c. Explain the relationship between genes and proteins.

- Genes make up proteins. Genes have nucleotides in them, which code for certain traits. Therefore, the genes inside proteins encode them to be a certain way or do a certain thing. They're both inside cells (the genes and proteins).

2. Using your own words, describe cloning.

- Cloning is, in my words, taking the crucial aspects and appearance of one thing and directly translating it to another, identical where it matters, object.

3. Describe how the bacterial cloned cells on your LB/amp plate differ from the cells on your LB/amp/ara plate. Can you design an experiment to show that both plates of cloned cells behave similarly and do contain the same DNA?

- The cells on the LB/amp plate have not had arabinose added yet, so the pGLO gene is not expressed. The cells on the LB/amp/ara plate have arabinose, and therefore have that gene expressed. You could do an experiment and add arabinose to the LB/amp plate, and it'd behave the same way as the LB/amp/ara plate. Vice versa, you could take away the arabinose from the second plate.

4. Describe how you might recover the cancer-curing protein from the bacterial cells.

- You'd use purification methods like in this unit (fermentation, recovery, purification).

1. What is a bacterial colony?

- A bacterial colony is a smattering of several bacteria growing close together in an attempt to be stronger, etc. They're all the same bacteria/organisms.

2. Why did you pick one green colony and one white colony from your agar plate(s)? Why do you think you picked one of each color? What could this prove?

- One of each color could prove that cloning the cells does actually work and it doesn't affect the GFP inside the colony.

3. How are these items helpful in this cloning experiment?

a. ultraviolet (UV) light

- The light shows which colony has the GFP, and so you can pick out those colonies when needed.

b. incubator

- The incubator lets the cells grow with the nutrient broth.

c. shaking incubator
