Debates in the Digital Humanities 2016 Matthew K. Gold, Lauren F. Klein, 2016-05-18 Pairing full length scholarly essays with shorter pieces drawn from scholarly blogs and conference presentations as well as commissioned interviews and position statements Debates in the Digital Humanities 2016 reveals a dynamic view of a field in negotiation with its identity methods and reach. Pieces in the book explore how DH can and must change in response to social justice movements and events like Ferguson how DH alters and is altered by community college classrooms and how scholars applying DH approaches to feminist studies queer studies and black studies might reframe the commitments of DH analysts. Numerous contributors examine the movement of interdisciplinary DH work into areas such as history art history and archaeology and a special forum on large scale text mining brings together position statements on a fast growing area of DH research. In the multivalent aspects of its arguments progressing across a range of platforms and environments Debates in the Digital Humanities 2016 offers a vision of DH as an expanded field new possibilities differently structured. Published simultaneously in print e book and interactive webtext formats each DH annual will be a book length publication highlighting the particular debates that have shaped the discipline in a given year. By identifying key issues as they unfold and by providing a hybrid model of open access publication these volumes and the Debates in the Digital Humanities series will articulate the present contours of the field and help forge its future.
