Courting Conflict Lisa Hajjar, 2005 Israel's military court system a centerpiece of Israel's apparatus of control in the West Bank and Gaza since 1967 has prosecuted hundreds of thousands of Palestinians This authoritative book provides a rare look at an institution that lies both figuratively and literally at the center of the Israeli Palestinian conflict Lisa Hajjar has conducted in depth interviews with dozens of Israelis and Palestinians including judges prosecutors defense lawyers defendants and translators about their experiences and practices to explain how this system functions and how its functioning has affected Courting Conflict? Nicholas Waddell, Phil Clark, 2008 The International Criminal Court's operations in Africa have encountered significant difficulties While the work of the Court has taken concrete shape so have its challenges The title of this collection Courting Conflict alludes to the inherent problems of pursuing justice in the midst of violence It also points to the tremendous controversy generated by the ICC's work to date not least the charge leveled at the Court that its actions risk prolonging conflict by jeopardizing peace deals This collection investigates the politics of the ICC's interventions in Africa Rather than exploring the progress of the ICC per se the essays address Africa's encounters with the Court and the Court's encounters with Africa The authors avoid treating African countries simply as a geographical arena for a new international justice body They also resist discussing the ICC in legal terms only Instead the essays situate debates about the Court in specific social cultural and political contexts where contending local national and international pressures apply The contributors address the ICC's relationships with the governments non state groups national judiciaries and local populations of the countries where it is active Coverage of the ICC has often belied the complexity of these relationships and has either romanticized or demonized the Court's interventions These essays take the form of short comment pieces written to stir and broaden debate on the ICC but also to help move it beyond the sensational and oversimplified The ABC of the OPT Orna Ben-Naftali, Michael Sfard, Hedi Viterbo, 2018-05-10 A lexicon of the legal administrative and military terms and concepts central to the Israeli occupation of the Palestinian Territories Torture and Democracy Darius Rejali, 2009-06-08 This is the most comprehensive and most comprehensively chilling study of modern torture yet written Darius Rejali one of the world's leading experts on torture takes the reader from the late nineteenth century to the aftermath of Abu Ghraib from slavery and the electric chair to electrotorture in American inner cities and from French and British colonial prison cells and the Spanish American War to the fields of Vietnam the wars of the Middle East and the new democracies of Latin America and Europe As Rejali traces the development and application of one torture technique after another in these settings he reaches startling conclusions As the twentieth century progressed he argues democracies not only tortured but set the international pace for torture Dictatorships may have tortured more and more indiscriminately but the United States Britain and France pioneered and exported techniques that have become the lingua franca of modern torture methods that leave no marks Under the watchful eyes of reporters and human rights activists low level authorities in the world's oldest democracies were the first to learn that to scar a victim was to advertise iniquity and invite scandal Long before the CIA even existed police and soldiers turned instead to clean techniques such as torture by electricity ice water noise drugs and stress positions As democracy and human rights spread after World War II so too did these methods Rejali makes this troubling case in fluid arresting prose and on the basis of unprecedented research conducted in multiple languages and on several continents begun years before most of us had ever heard of Osama bin Laden or Abu Ghraib The author of a major study of Iranian torture Rejali also tackles the controversial question of whether torture really works answering the new apologists for torture point by point A brave and disturbing book this is the benchmark against which all future studies of modern torture will be measured Essays in Social Justice Thomas Nixon Carver, 1915 A scholarly edition of a work by Bernard Mandeville The edition presents an authoritative text together with an introduction commentary notes and scholarly apparatus The French Terror Wave, 2015-2016 Marc E. Vargo, 2021-01-11 A torrent of Islamist terrorism swept across France in 2015 and 2016 executed by militant jihadists on behalf of al Qaeda and the Islamic State ISIS Their targets ranged from the Paris offices of Charlie Hebdo magazine to the Bataclan Theatre on the Boulevard Voltaire to a parish church in a Normandy village and a beachfront promenade on the Mediterranean This book reconstructs these and other terrorist offensives France weathered during this period Placing each attack in its sociopolitical context the author examines the backgrounds and motives of the perpetrators the attributes of the victims and the legacy of the attacks for the people The Brunonian Brown University, 1905 The Church of the Early Centuries Emile Amann, 1930 The History of Scotland from Agricola's Invasion to the Extinction of the Last Jacobite Insurrection John Hill Burton, 1905 The Last of the Tasmanians James Bonwick, 1870 Principles of Sociology Rudolph Michael Binder, 1928 Disarming the Past Ana Cutter Patel, Pablo De Greiff, Lars Waldorf, 2009 For the past twenty years international donors have invested heavily in large scale disarmament demobilization and reintegration DDR programs while at the same time transitional justice measures have proliferated bringing truth justice and reparations to those recovering from state violence and civil war Yet DDR programs are seldom deconstructed to discover whether they truly achieve their justice related aims Additionally transitional justice mechanisms rarely articulate strategies for coordinating with DDR Disarming the Past examines the connections and failures between these two initiatives within peacebuilding contexts and evaluates future links between DDR programs and the aims of transitional justice The outcome of a substantial research project initiated by the International Center for Transitional Justice ICTJ this book is crucial for anyone interested in effective interventions and enduring outcomes No-license Handbook George Dash, 1908 The Family, 1923 The History of Scotland from Agricola's Invasion to the Extinction of the Last Jacobite Insurrection John Hill Burton, 1898 Transnational Law & Contemporary Problems, 2014 The Lost Tasmanian Race James Bonwick, 1884 Early voyagers contact First conflicts under British at Risdon 1804 varying reports Childstealing prevalent retaliation raids
